BENNETT WILL CASE TO BE BITTER FIGHT

Comes Up Before Surrogate Crater at Freehold, N. J., Today—May Go to Circuit Court.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FREEHOLD, N. J., June 18.—A bitter legal fight will begin tomorrow at Freehold before Surrogate Crater, when the will of Henry M. Bennett of Pittsburgh will be filed for probate. Miss Laura Biggar, the one-time actress, who is the principal beneficiary under the will, has a contest on her hands greater than any she dreamed of during the long siege she underwent while nursing the deceased theatrical manager. Miss Biggar will be present and will be represented by Attorney Samuel A. Patterson of this city. The will will be contested on the ground that Miss Biggar exerted an undue influence over Mr. Bennett and thereby induced him to leave the bulk of his property to her. A caveat has been filed by Emma A. Beckwith and Mary E. Conant, nieces of Mr. Bennett, and Samuel C. Bennett, a nephew, all residents of Boston.

MOB REIGNS FOR ONE DAY IN PATERSON

Many Shot, the Mills Wrecked and Threats of the Torch.

STRIKERS URGED ON BY ANARCHISTS

Operatives Driven from Their Work and Factories Closed.

MANY BRAVE ACTIONS ON PART OF POLICE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 18—Led by rabid anarchists from the group which produced Bresci, 5,000 strikers from the silk mills fought a pitched battle with the police today in the streets of Paterson.

Two persons were fatally injured and eight others, suffering from bullet wounds, were received at the hospitals. It is estimated that as many more among the strikers were hit by bullets fired by the police and carried away by their friends. Among the injured was one policeman, who was shot in the arm; a reporter for a Paterson paper, who was shot while taking pictures of the mob, and a milkman, who was sitting on the porch of his own house.

Mills were stormed with volleys of stones and shots were fired through the windows to intimidate operatives. Policemen who attempted to guard the mills were swept aside and all employes were forced to quit work.

Chief of Police Graul utterly failed to meet the situation. Mayor Hinchcliffe, after ordering him to put on his uniform and go out with his men, denounced the chief and charged him with having lost his "nerve." The mayor himself then took charge of the measures to quell the disturbance. But, in spite of all efforts to preserve peace, the rioting continued until all of the silk mills were closed.

Strikers Urged on by Anarchists.

William MacQueen, an English anarchist and editor of a paper called Liberty, and an Italian anarchist named Galleano, made speeches, which incited the strikers to action, and when the march to the mills was begun these two men led the way. Other mobs were led by women, who were more rabid than the men.

This morning Chairman McGrath, who has held the strikers in leash since he first obtained control on the second day of the strike, was on hand and presided at a meeting. He spoke; so did McQueen and Galleano, and the latter worked his countrymen into a frenzy.

Then McQueen leaped into control of the meeting. He called for a vote on the question of calling for a general strike of all branches of the silk trade. All voted in favor of it and a committee was appointed to consider means for bringing the silk workers out. Galleano was one of the committee.

It gathered amid a babel of tongues and a scene of confusion. Five minutes later Galleano emerged from the group shouting something in Italian. Instantly a mob had formed about him. Into it rushed the Italians and then the other foreigners, and a moment later the mob, led by Galleano, swept down Belmont avenue.

Silk Mills Attacked.

A quarter of a mile down Belmont avenue stands the Columbia mill, a silk ribbon factory. The doors had been locked when the mob appeared, but they were forced open, and with the crash of the doors came a volley of stones which riddled the windows in the front of the building.

Twenty young women on the first floor stood at bay and threatened to fight and the weavers on the second floor ran down to their aid. They finally decided to leave the mill. When the operatives were out of the Columbia the mob swept on down Belmont avenue. Several members of the group of existence, Bresci's old comrades, with Galleano at their head, were in the lead.

It seemed to make no difference to the mob whether the mills were in any way connected with the silk trade or not. A cotton braid factory was attacked. The women became hysterical as the howling rioters climbed in windows and burst in the doors until the owner ordered his employes to quit for the day. The mob rushed through the cotton works and did much damage and then poured on down the street to Bamford Brothers' mill in Cliff street.

Police Made Brave Stand.

Here Patrolmen Robinson, Sweetman, Keys and Detective Magie had taken a stand. The four faced the mob for five minutes, telling them that the employes had gone out by the rear and the works were closed down.

Over the main door hung a sign reading: "Dyers' Helpers Wanted."

There was a rush and men leaping on the shoulders of others tore it down. Some one threw a brick through a window and stones rained against the side of the mill and the windows in a perfect shower. From the mill volleys were hurled at the officers and all four were struck several times.

A section of the mob made for the Bamford home close by. The police sought to head them off and did so, but a shot was fired and a bullet went through Robinson's right arm. It staggered him and as he was regaining his feet a jagged rock hit him on the head, laying open the scalp. Supported by his comrades Robinson was taken to the Bamford home. The remaining three drove back the mob from the house and the attack on the mill was renewed.

The young women in the mill tried to get out and were driven back but escaped later by the rear. Martha Huyser

CAPT. W. B. RODGERS.

CAPT. RODGERS AND SON HAVE BOTH RESIGNED

Have Arranged to Leave the River Coal Combine on July 1.

VETERAN OF THE RIVERS WILL REST

Capt. W. B. Rodgers has resigned as a member of the board of directors and local sales agent of the Monongahela River Coal and Coke Company. His resignation, which was tendered to the board April 23, will be accepted at a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

J. Herman Rodgers, a son of Capt. Rodgers and manager of the sales department, resigned yesterday. Both resignations will take effect July 1. William D. O'Neil has been appointed to take the younger Rodgers' place, and will enter upon his duties this morning, in order to familiarize himself with the business before Mr. Rodgers retires.

Great pressure was brought to bear by J. B. Finley, president of the company, and other directors to have Capt. Rodgers rescind his action, but he refused on the ground that he wished to retire from the company and take a well-earned vacation. The resignation of J. H. Rodgers was not expected, and while every effort was made to have him retain his position, Mr. Rodgers refused to stay. His successor, W. D. O'Neil, was formerly the senior member of the river coal firm of O'Neil & Co.

Among steamboat men and business men there are few identified with the river business who are more popular than Capt. Rodgers. His courteous treatment to all always made him friends. When Capt. Rodgers was asked last night if it were true that he had resigned, he said:

"My resignation will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board. I desire to retire from the coal business, as I have other business interests claiming my attention. Then I want to take a rest and expect to make a trip to California this winter. I may also go abroad. It all depends on business matters."

Capt. Rodgers started in business for himself a little more than 20 years ago and his rise in the river trade in that time, it is said, has been most rapid. The captain, it is reported, retains some stock in the coal company, and he is said to be a large holder of bonds of the company. Capt. Rodgers is president of the Allegheny Trust Company, a director of the Mechanics bank of Pittsburgh, a director in the Bellevue Realty and Trust Company of Bellevue, president of the Rodgers Sand Company and is identified with numerous other business interests. It is understood that he will devote most of his time to developing the river sand industry, having gone into that business quite extensively.

Capt. Rodgers' position with the coal company was most important, for through his department about three-fifths of the entire output of coal mined by the company was sold. It is not known who will succeed him on the board, but it is rumored that a stock broker may take his place.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Junior O. U. A. M. Chooses Men to Manage Its Affairs During the Coming Year.

MILWAUKEE, June 18.—The Junior Order of the United American Mechanics decided to meet next year in San Francisco. The convention reaffirmed all the acts of the last national council board of officers.

Officers were elected as follows: National councilor, George S. Bowers, Pennsylvania; national vice councilor, James L. Cooper, Texas; national secretary, Edward S. Deemer, Pennsylvania; national treasurer, J. Adam Soni, Maryland; national conductor, E. R. Billingham, Georgia; national warden, C. L. Place, Rhode Island; national inside sentinel, J. M. Douglass, Wisconsin; national outside sentinel, A. S. White, Vermont; beneficiary degree, R. J. Armstrong, Missouri; national chaplain, the Rev. N. D. Lichliter, Pittsburgh.

HARPOON THROWN INTO COL. GUFFEY BY JUDGE KREBS

Diplomatically Announces That the State Democracy Needs a New Leader.

OTHERS IN CONSPIRACY

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—The plan to deprive Col. J. M. Guffey of his Democratic leadership in this state has been perfected. It will probably be developed fully at the Erie convention. Those in the plot are ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, ex-Congressman James S. Kerr, Congressman Howard Mutchler, and what are known as the Wanamaker "interests," those who make themselves heard through the columns of his papers, notably the North American and the Record. Ex-Judge Krebs of Clearfield in an interview tonight challenged Guffey's leadership.

"I think the time has come," said Mr. Krebs, "for a more representative control of party affairs in this state. There is much unrest, and the demand for a change is unmistakable. We should go back to the custom in vogue in the days of Randall and Wallace, when the prominent leaders of the party from all sections of the state were called into consultation and advised with, especially when gubernatorial candidates were considered and state platforms were to be framed.

"Such a plan appeals to Democrats now, and it is receiving very general attention. Unless those responsible for the state organization heed the demand and widen their scope of influence by a broader policy the people may take charge and bring about conditions necessary to party success."

Judge Krebs was diplomatic, but his meaning is unmistakable. It is a notice that Col. Guffey must drop ex-Gov. Pattison and support either Congressman Kerr or Judge Gordon for governor or fight. Under such conditions Guffey usually fights.

PRESIDENT JOHN MITCHELL
Of the United Mine Workers of America, Who Has Called a National Convention of the Miners to Be Held in Indianapolis.

MITCHELL WILL URGE A GENERAL MINERS' STRIKE

A Call for Meeting of National Union Issued.

SUCCESS OF MOVE NOT YET ASSURED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 18.—A special national convention of all the coal miners in the United States organized under the banner of the United Mine Workers of America, will be held at Indianapolis on July 17, at which the striking anthracite coal miners will attempt to have a proposition adopted which would cause almost a total suspension of coal mining and partially paralyze the industries of the country. Whether they will succeed cannot at this time be told.

The 145,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners will be backed up strongly by the West Virginia strikers and also by those from Michigan. The Central Pennsylvania bituminous men will also send some Steered Into Another Hard Bump.

COL. GEORGE F. HUFF MAY HAVE TROUBLE IN HIS DISTRICT

Breaking of an Agreement May Lose Him a Seat in Congress.

MADE DEAL FOR AN UMPIRE

The situation in the Butler-Westmoreland district in regard to the Republican nomination for congress is growing interesting. Col. George F. Huff had planned to get back to Washington in an official capacity, but the action of his delegates at Harrisburg has probably sidetracked the realization of his ambitions.

Huff and his friends made a deal with John P. Elkin. In substance it was that the eight delegates from Westmoreland were to be for the attorney general for governor if he could show that he would be in a position to appoint an umpire in the congressional district friendly to Huff in case one was needed. This compact was entered into at the Logan house in Altoona some months ago.

It will be recalled that about the first business done by the convention was the adoption of a resolution electing M. S. Quay state chairman. This action broke the bargain with Elkin. Westmoreland is low on the roll and when it was reached Elkin was defeated by a majority of about 20. Five of the delegates were voted for Elkin.

The candidate in Butler is Congressman Joseph Showalter. Two of the three delegates from his county voted for Pennypacker. Out in Westmoreland they are now speculating on what will happen when the umpire stage is reached. They figure that if Chairman Quay considers the votes of the delegation he will probably have a leaning toward Butler. The conferee system of nominating will no doubt be selected and a deadlock in the district is expected.

Senator Quay is expected in Pittsburgh tomorrow or Saturday. Recorder J. O. Brown is said to be anxious to see him and endeavor to keep Pennypacker of the Citizens tickets. From recent developments it is not likely that Brown will receive much consolation from Quay.

LEAPS INTO RIVER WHILE DELIRIOUS

Former Alleghenian Commits Suicide in St. Louis While Suffering from Typhoid Fever.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 18.—John Kaufmann of this city has just received tidings of the terrible end of his brother, George Kaufmann of St. Louis. While suffering from delirium, resulting from typhoid fever, he escaped from his home and drowned himself in the Mississippi river.

Word of his illness had been telegraphed here and to his father, John Kaufmann of East street, Allegheny. His brother, Lewis of Allegheny, at once started for St. Louis. Before he arrived George had thrown himself into the river and Lewis searched four days before the body was recovered.

Then it was too badly decomposed to be seen by the relatives, and Lewis Kaufmann will return home without viewing the face of his brother whom he expected to find alive.

After the sick man broke away, lightly clothed, he wandered demented about St. Louis for several hours.

The dead man is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaufmann of Allegheny, three brothers and a sister. The latter are: John of this city, Lewis and Amel of Allegheny, and Mrs. Margaret Westerman of Allegheny.

John Kaufmann, Sr., is a wagonmaker living at 1206 East street, Allegheny.

Degree for Ex-Secretary Long.

MEDFORD, MASS., June 18.—The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long by Tufts college today.

BODY OF LOVED HUSBAND WAS SPIRITED AWAY

James S. Lavely's Remains Taken to Johnstown by His Father.

PROTESTS OF WIFE WERE UNHEEDED

Against the heartrending cries of his children and the strenuous protests of his wife, the body of James S. Lavely, who formerly lived at No. 4422 Calvin street, Lawrenceville, was taken from his home, loaded in a hearse and shipped to Johnstown last Tuesday night. The remains are to be buried there this afternoon from the residence of David Lavely, father of the dead man.

Committees appointed by different orders to which James D. Lavely belonged have taken the matter up and may prevent the burial of the body today. In case this is done the remains will be shipped back to Pittsburgh and funeral services held from the Lavely home, followed by an interment in Allegheny cemetery.

If the remains cannot be obtained for the bereaved widow it is the intention of the committees to go into court and claim the body, and if the claim is allowed to disinter the remains and bring them back to Pittsburgh for burial in the place where he had often expressed his wish to rest, by the side of his first wife, sister of the one he leaves behind.

The death of Lavely was one of the saddest in the history of Allegheny county, and climaxed as it was by the spiriting away of his dead body, without the permission of his wife and against the wild protests of his children, has caused the wife to collapse and she is now in a very precarious condition.

Jumped from a Window While Delirious.

Lavely for the past 14 years had worked as a machinist at the Black Diamond steel works. In May he was stricken down with typhoid fever. About two weeks ago he became much worse and was quite delirious one evening. The attending physician that night warned Mrs. Lavely not to lose sight of her husband for a moment, for the reason that he was in a condition where he might do something desperate.

About midnight that night the patient awakened partially from a stupor and asked his wife to turn out the light in order that he might sleep better. As she started to grant his request he sprang from the bed, ran to the window and plunged down head-long, a distance of 17 feet. His death occurred last Monday. He was 39 years old.

Following the death, Mrs. Lavely notified her brothers-in-law, Frank and Charles Lavely, who live in this county, and they notified their father, David Lavely of Johnstown. Early Tuesday morning David Lavely, in company with his son, George, of Johnstown, came to Pittsburgh and viewed the body as it was laid out for burial at the Calvin street home. They at once demanded that the body be turned over to them, to be taken to Johnstown for burial. Mrs. Lavely would not consent to this, saying that her husband had made preparations to have his remains interred in the Allegheny cemetery.

The father and brothers claimed that the dead man had requested before his death that he be buried by the side of his mother in Johnstown, and they told the widow that if she did not yield to their requests they would take the matter into court and fight for possession of the body. This threat frightened Mrs.

CHURCH LAND LEASED FOR A 999-YEAR TERM

Congregation Gets $150,000 Cash and $30,000 Per Annum.

TO USE MONEY FOR EVANGELIZATION

Site of the First Presbyterian Church Was Disposed of to Henry W. Oliver.

VOTE OF CONGREGATION ENTIRELY UNANIMOUS

Without a dissenting vote, the congregation of the First Presbyterian church last night agreed to lease to Henry W. Oliver 168x60 feet of its property in Wood street for the sum of $150,000 cash and a rental of $30,000 per annum for the space of 999 years. It was, probably, the most expeditious business ever transacted by any church in this part of the state, although the affair has been given consideration for over a year.

Every one present knew thoroughly the terms of the lease as drawn up by the building committee and the trustees of the church. Mr. Oliver had been shown the terms and agreed to them. The Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the church, presided, and Alexander McClure introduced the resolution providing that the property be leased to Mr. Oliver. It was unanimously adopted. The women of the church are particularly gratified with the terms of the lease.

By these terms the First church gets a goodly bulk in cash and a permanent annuity, besides having to itself an excellent frontage on Sixth avenue for an entrance to the church and other facilities. The present church will be swung around to face on Sixth avenue where there will be a 100-foot frontage and a depth of 240 feet to Virgin alley.

An Area for Light.

Between Mr. Oliver's proposed building and the church there is to be a private way, 20 feet wide, for the exclusive use of the First church. This will also serve in part as a joint light area for both structures. There are other agreements in the lease which include light, heat, etc. The First church has until October to remove the present edifice. With the completion of last night's transaction Mr. Oliver's holdings in that district cover a solid block of 240 feet on Wood street and 60 feet on Sixth avenue. The other holdings were acquired by the purchase of the Third National bank and the property of the Bissell heirs.

A prominent feature of last night's meeting was announcement of the church's plans for evangelization work. The First church is well endowed with funds and has no need for more money. This was what prevented the outright sale of the property. After days of thoughtful consideration a plan was adopted by which Mr. Oliver could have the property, out instead of paying the church $450,000 cash, as was proposed, he will pay it $150,000 cash and $30,000 per annum. This money the First church proposes to use for evangelization work in the downtown district.

For Evangelization Work.

"Not one cent of this money will be used for any other purpose," said Charles E. Speer last night to a Gazette reporter. Mr. Speer is chairman of the building committee of the church and one of the most prominent lay workers in the city. "It is our aim, now that God has given us the means, to do our utmost for the salvation of souls. The evangelization of the downtown districts is and has always been our prayer. Now we propose to use our money. We shall, in a certain sense, have an annuity with which to do this. The congregation has long desired to enter more largely into this work, and I am sure steps will soon be taken to do so.

"When the present edifice is swung around to Sixth avenue the congregation will still have a plot of 100 square feet in the rear of the church building, and it is proposed to build here one of the most complete institutions in the land. Although no plans have yet been adopted the idea is for the First church always to retain its identity as the mother of the Presbyterian body in Western Pennsylvania. To this end the proposed new institution will have in it an immense auditorium for the holding of joint Presbyterian meetings. In a word, it is to be headquarters of the Presbyterian church in this district. Over and above all this the First church will aim at rescuing souls and uplifting the morally weak in the downtown districts. Dr. Alexander is thoroughly in sympathy with this work.

"This was our reason," concluded Mr. Speer, "for not selling the property outright. In this manner the money can never be diverted to other than its proper use. This use is for the salvation of souls."

PITTSBURGH TO GET BIG TRADE SCHOOL

Foundrymen's Association Plans a Branch of the Carnegie Institute. Paper by Local Man.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.

BOSTON, June 18.—S. D. Sleeth, vice president of the American Foundrymen's association for Pennsylvania, Delaware, Indiana and the District of Columbia, presided at the sessions of the convention today. Three hundred delegates are in attendance. The stated program included a paper by S. H. Stupakoff of Pittsburgh on "The Molding Machine Jigs."

Treasurer Thomas D. West reported in favor of the establishment of a trade school, where apprentices may be taught the foundry business.

J. J. SWEENEY IS AGAIN REJECTED BY THE CITIZENS

Ryan Named as Compromise Candidate for Assembly in Fourth District.

SOUTHSIDERS GET PLACES

Two Republican Representatives of the Workingmen Are Nominated for the Legislature in Fifth—Benjamin Anderson Goes on Ticket.

The Citizens and Democrats yesterday devoted another afternoon to ticket making. The result was the nomination of the following members of assembly:

Third district—Benjamin Anderson, Republican, Thirteenth ward.

Fourth district—W. J. Ryan, Democrat, Twelfth ward.

Fifth district—W. W. Willett, Twenty-sixth ward, and Benjamin Weaver, Thirty-sixth ward, both Republicans.

It is expected that Robert Cochrane of the Sixth ward, Allegheny, will today be nominated for assembly in the Second district as a running mate of John Francies. It is equally probable that Representative John P. McTighe of the Sixth ward will be the second man in the Third district. The vacancy in the First and the one in the Fifth are still in doubt. The entire ticket will be filled at the meeting at Citizens headquarters this afternoon. The Democrats have completed their nominations.

Sweeney Turned Down Again.

The Citizens party for a second time declined to indorse the nomination of John J. Sweeney of the Fourth ward as the Democratic candidate for assembly in the Fourth district. Even his friends say that they are of the opinion that he cannot receive the Democratic nomination in the district even if he were disposed to go after it.

When the Citizens on Tuesday refused to indorse Sweeney his enemies thought that they were through with the fight. To their surprise the Democratic conference committee at its meeting yesterday decided to insist upon Sweeney's indorsement. When the news reached Citizens headquarters A. T. Carr of the Fourth ward was frantic with rage. He openly declared that the placing of Sweeney on the ticket would defeat every candidate upon it. His anger was not appeased until Sweeney was finally rejected.

The joint committee was in session quite a long time, neither side willing to yield. Finally the Democrats saw that they would not secure the nomination of Sweeney. His name was withdrawn and that of W. J. Ryan, a Twelfth ward saloonkeeper, substituted. This selection was unanimously agreed to by the Democrats, and the Citizens gave their indorsement. This was the only nomination remaining for the Democrats to make.

Sweeney's Friends Angry.

The friends of Sweeney were angry last night. They are sweating vengeance on Ryan, and declare that their support will be thrown to Eugene Schwartzwalder, the machine nominee. The Citizens say that they will be able to control the district, no matter where the Sweeney men decide to land.

The Citizens believe that they have made a strong nomination in Benjamin Anderson, the Thirteenth ward Republican placed on the Third legislative ticket. He is a contractor, and has shown that he has a large following in the ward. The Democrats of the district are endeavoring to secure a man on the ticket, but it is not thought probable that they will succeed. This is a Republican district. The machine has been especially active in stirring the Democrats to demand one of the nominations. G. K. Gardner of the Thirteenth ward and Capt. Augustus Seaforth are the Democrats suggested. The selection of Anderson of the Thirteenth means that neither of them is in the running.

The Citizens, in selecting Willett and Weaver of the South Side for assembly candidates in the Fifth, have been looking after the interests of the workingmen. Willett is in the grocery business. He was formerly prominent in the Amalgamated association. Weaver was also a union workman until he went into the insurance business.

The 13 state delegates to the Democratic convention which convenes in Erie next Wednesday, held their last meeting in Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon at headquarters. George W. Guthrie, the candidate of the local delegation for governor, was present.

William J. Brennen was elected chairman of the delegation and Joseph McClure secretary. Charles A. Fagan was selected to present the name of Mr. Guthrie to the convention. Mr. Fagan is a good talker, and it is expected that on this occasion he will make an extra effort.

The delegation will leave for Erie over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at 9:25, city time, Monday morning. Guthrie and Col. Guffey will go with the delegation. There will be a caucus of the delegates at the Reed house Monday night.

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock a train bearing about 500 Guthrie rooters will leave for the convention city over the Lake Erie road. George S. Fleming will be in charge of the party.

The Twenty-sixth ward Republican association last night elected the following officers: Chairman, John Bradley; vice chairman, A. C. Frank; secretary, David J. McGarey; treasurer, John F. Semmelrock; members of the city committee, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, Charles J. Ruhlandt and Henry Lissfeld.

Lavely, but still she would not give her consent.

M. P. Leslie, the undertaker, was sent for and he came and argued with Mrs. Lavely that she could not hold the body as her marriage vows only lasted "until death," and that after her husband had passed away any blood relative could come and claim his body and take and bury it where they pleased.

Mrs. Lavely then sent her brother, Earle Wimer, to consult an attorney. He returned with the advice not to allow the body to be removed. About this time the widow collapsed and had to be put to bed.

Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock the father and Johnstown, brother of the dead man, returned to the Lavely home in company with Undertaker Leslie. No one was in the parlor with the corpse save the two children, Vernel, a little girl aged 12 years, and Roy, a boy aged 9 years. Tossing aside an American flag which had been thrown over the casket, and roughly removing wreaths and pillows of flowers, the three men hurriedly took the body of the dead man out, placed it in a waiting hearse and rapidly driving away, shipped the corpse to Johnstown.

"You are a hard-hearted uncle," said the little girl to George Lavely as he tossed the flag to one side. No attention was paid to her. "I loved my father dearly," continued the girl between her sobs, "and grandfather, you have no right to take him away so I cannot visit his grave. Oh, I hope God will punish you, you wicked grandfather," was the last exclamation of the child as the body of her father was put in the hearse.

As the body was taken away, the undertaker pulled the flowing crepe from the front door and threw it into the hearse. Shortly after this members of the First Brethren church, with which Lavely had been connected for 12 years, gathered at the house to hold preliminary funeral services. When they found the corpse missing and the handsome floral pillow they had provided cast into a corner, while the American flag was in another, they became enraged and threatened loudly to bring the two Johnstown men to answer to legal proceedings. There was no end of excitement in the Lawrenceville district over the taking away of Lavely's remains.

James S. Lavely was a member of Tancred commandry No. 48, K. T., of Lodge No. 45, A. F. and A. M., and of Bainbridge lodge, Jr. O. U. A. M. He was a quiet, industrious Christian citizen, greatly respected by all who knew him.

EDWARD TO FOREGO PUBLIC ENGAGEMENTS

King of England's Physicians Recommend Quiet for a Few Days.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 18.—It was officially announced today that, in view of the strain of the approaching coronation, King Edward's physicians have recommended that his majesty forego all public engagements for a few days.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra drove in Windsor park in an open carriage for nearly two hours this afternoon. Their majesties were not accompanied by outriders. King Edward was looking quite well.

THIRTY-ONE INJURED.

Crowd Watching a Fire Faces Shower of Glass From Explosion of Gasoline.

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 18.—Thirty-one persons were injured tonight by a gasoline generator explosion in a hardware store. Fire broke out in the store and an immense crowd gathered before the plate glass front of the building. The fire ignited the gasoline, which exploded, blowing out the front of the store. Fragments of the heavy plate glass made serious wounds.

The most seriously injured are: Archie McWethy, skull fractured, fatally injured; James Beard, fireman, abdomen cut open; Jerome Cabert, traveling salesman, Kansas City, head and face cut; J. B. Donnelly, temple cut; Clyde Merritt, head split open; Will Star, face, eyes and ears cut; Daniel Waters, fireman, head cut; R. E. Frazier, face and head cut; Prof. C. M. Randolph, artery severed in head; James B. Easley, head cut.

FATAL FIGHT OF WOMEN.

One Dead and Another Dying from the Wounds Inflicted by a Third.

TOLEDO, O., June 18.—Miss Rose Wheeler, aged 25, is dead and her mother, Mrs. William Wheeler, aged 68, is dying as the result of a murderous assault made upon them by Mrs. Edward Leightner, aged 26, and the wife of an iron worker now employed in Cleveland.

The two families reside in a double house, at 432 and 434 Front street, and the three women had been quarreling all day. Mrs. Leightner was arrested.

FOR YOUR WIFE'S SAKE

And for Your Own Sake You Should Own an Angelus.

Probably your wife does not have time to play the piano nowadays as she did when she was a girl. No doubt her household and social duties do not permit of the practice necessary to the rendering of perfect music, and although she is very fond of music she is obliged to sacrifice this pleasure for the present. Chances are that she misses the music of her piano more than any other single thing associated with her early life.

This condition of affairs can be overcome very easily. Purchase an Angelus. Not only will it bring back the musical delights of her girlhood, but it will enable YOU to play the same pieces—and any others that may please your fancy. The significance of this is that the Angelus is the one piano player which enables the person operating it to play the piano with all the shading and coloring characteristic of the playing of the most accomplished pianists—such playing, in fact, as ordinarily requires years of patient practice to attain. The musical compositions of the entire world can be played on your piano if you have an Angelus. These include the great orchestral pieces as well as those originally written for the piano. The Angelus is absolutely the only piano player capable of this, for it is the only one that has an orchestral attachment.

Briefly summed up, the Angelus is the music marvel of the age. It is simplicity itself, and as any person can play the Angelus there is no reason why one of these splendid devices should not be in every household where music is appreciated. We wish you would come in and hear the Angelus, or write for a catalogue descriptive of it.

QUIET FOLLOWS THE ALLEGHENY STORM

NO MORE PUBLIC OFFICIALS WERE DECAPITATED YESTERDAY.

Recorder Murphy Is Sorry That He Was Forced by Governor Stone to Turn Director McAfee Out of Office—More Changes Expected.

Recorder John R. Murphy of Allegheny is "sore." He is "sore" on Gov. Stone and "sore" on himself because he allowed himself to become a tool of the postscript governor and oust from office one of his best friends. The North Side boss was at his office early yesterday morning and remained until late in the afternoon.

Shortly after noon he called upon Director David L. Fulton and the two held a short conference regarding the work of the department of public works. Not a bit of politics was discussed, according to the statement of Mr. Fulton.

Recorder Murphy does not know where he is at, and is looking every minute for an official order from Harrisburg to decapitate others on the Allegheny payroll. The recorder says he does not expect to make any more removals at present, but frankly admits that he does not know whether he will have to or not.

Recorder Murphy was in and out of his office frequently yesterday afternoon. He did not want to talk politics. He paced the floor of City hall and expressed himself freely to his political friends that he was sorry McAfee had to go.

"Any changes today?" was the question propounded to the recorded.

"No," was his answer.

"Will there be any further changes?"

"No; not that I know of."

"Have you selected a successor to Mr. Fulton?"

"No, not yet. I have had a flood of applications for the superintendency of highways and sewers, but as yet I have not filled the place."

"When will you make the new appointment?"

"It won't be made for a week yet, and possibly two weeks. I do not want to make the appointment without taking plenty of time. Fulton's successor must be a capable man, and for that reason I want to be sure of my footing."

"The appointment of Fulton seems to be popular," said the reporter.

"Well, I am glad it is, for Fulton is a splendid man, and will carry on the work of the department with the greatest satisfaction."

The new director of the department of public works was in his office early yesterday morning. He also looked after his former position as superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers and divided the day between the two places.

Director Fulton said: "There will be no changes in the department of public works at present. Several may be made in a few days, but I cannot tell yet what they will be. I had a short conference with Recorder Murphy today, but no politics was discussed."

SENATORS STILL ARE IN DEADLOCK ON RECIPROCITY

Beet Sugar Men Appear at Caucus, but With No Idea of Surrender.

NEITHER BILL CAN PASS

Senator Quay Sees Trend of Affairs and Moves to Adjourn—Another Conference to Be Held After the Session of the Senate Tomorrow.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—The Republican senatorial caucus on Cuban reciprocity failed to reach an agreement tonight, and another conference will be held Friday, after the adjournment of the senate. Tonight's meeting was devoted entirely to discussion and no vote was taken.

The discussion continued until the conference adjourned at 10:45, to meet again on the adjournment of the senate on Friday afternoon. The opinion was expressed, even by those who would vote for a reciprocity bill, that there was little possibility of pushing such a measure at this session of congress. The 17 beet sugar senators present each made a speech saying that he would not support the Spooner bill or any measure of that character. Statements were made for Senators Simon of Oregon and Mason of Illinois that they thoroughly agreed with their colleagues in opposition to the reciprocity bill.

Antis Accounted For.

The 19 senators thus accounted for are: Perkins and Bard, California; Mitchell and Simon, Oregon; Foster, Wassington; Gamble and Kittredge, South Dakota; Nelson and Clapp, Minnesota; Dietrich and Millard, Nebraska; Elkins and Scott, West Virginia; Jones and Stewart, Nevada; Burton, Kansas; Burrows, Michigan; Mason, Illinois, and Wellington, Maryland.

At the conclusion of the speeches Senator Quay said what had been developed indicated that neither the original house bill nor the proposed Spooner substitute could pass, and he therefore moved an adjournment. Senator Dietrich suggested that the conference might as well adjourn sine die, but this received no encouragement.

The meeting was held in the marble room, just off the senate chamber. All the Republican senators with six exceptions, were present. Four of the six absentees were out of the city.

The senators not present were Messrs. Depew, Dolliver, Frye, Hawley, Kearns and Simon. Senator Wellington, who has not acted with his party for the past two years, was among the first to present himself.

Preceded by Two Meetings.

The conference was preceded by two meetings, to which some significance was attached. The first of these was a gathering of the Republican steering committee and the second a dinner given by Senator Burrows in his committee room to the beet sugar senators.

The steering committee decided to recommend that the reciprocity bill be made the unfinished business after the disposal tomorrow of the isthmian canal bill, subject, of course, to the action of tonight's conference. This is accepted as a pronouncement favorable to the proposed legislation.

The Burrows dinner was attended by 17 of the 19 senators pledged to oppose reciprocity. There was no effort to transform the dinner into a conference, but the senators present gathered in small groups for the discussion of the situation. A poll led to the announcement that one-third of the Republican membership of the senate was present at the dinner, that all states were represented and that they were as firmly united as ever.

Senator Platt of Connecticut and Senator Burrows of Michigan spoke for and against tariff reduction.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. Some Downright Snappy Bargains.

Just What Women Want.

Two unparalleled bargains presented in parallel columns for quick reading. Ladies, your best endeavors should be used to meet these bargains today—this morning, if possible.

The First Big Bargain.

We have some 500 lengths of those immensely popular sheer stuffs, French Voiles and Mistrals.

The lengths vary—1¼ to 5 yards. Enough for children's dresses and summer coats, or for a skirt for women of short stature the 5 yard lengths can be worked up to advantage.

These materials are the best mixtures of silk and wool that we could find in this country and in the woolen-weaving districts of Europe. They are the approved textures for smart summer dresses.

These lengths will be sold today for the following remarkable prices:

25c a yard for materials that sold for 50c, 65c and 85c a yard.

50c a yard for materials that sold for $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a yard.

The Second Big Bargain.

Our buyer of women's tailored gowns has been in New York this week, and has closed some exceedingly clever deals for women's garments of the dressy sort.

By express yesterday came a purchase of the neatest of Walking Skirts, bought so we can sell them for half and less of their regular price.

Manufacturers are cleaning up stocks now, and are willing to lose some money.

The materials in these skirts are plain and fancy homespuns, men's wear mixtures and wide wale cheviots.

The colors are light gray and oxford, brown and tan, solid black and blue gray.

Style is newest gore flare, inverted pleat back. Every seam is stitched and there is stitching around bottom.

$5 is our price. They were made to sell for $10 and $12.

Hasty Notes of Women's New White Dresses.

Another arrival from our buyer in New York.

A number of the loveliest White Dresses any woman ever uttered exclamations over.

Arrived late yesterday afternoon, after the matter for this bulletin had been written.

Dimities, dotted Swisses, fine India Linons and Organdies, finished with the most luxurious laces and embroidery, flounces and tucks.

About half of them are elbow sleeve style.

Some have collars, some are without, but no two are alike.

Now, you will pardon us if we do not tell you how much below their real value the prices of these dresses are. If we told, you might accuse us of exaggeration.

See them for $15, $16.50, $18, $20, $25 and $30. Your sense of values will suggest their real worth.

New Belts—Women's.

About the neatest are the Crushed Silk Belts. 50c to $3. These have buckles.

New Braid Belts, fastened with ring clasps. Black and white. 50c to $1.50.

Leather Belts of sea lion, dull calf, suede, seal and patent leather, 50c to $1.50.

Notions.

In a store like this meaning a great many small things that are needful and cannot be dispensed with—mostly pertaining to feminine dress.

A lot of these useful things underprice.

Large Dress Shields at the price of small ones—the Lily, a favored brand. No. 5, 25c pair, regularly 33c; No. X, 28c pair, regularly 38c.

Fair and Square Dress Shields—No. 5, 19c a pair, regularly 22c; No. X, 22c a pair, regularly 25c.

Little lot of Hose Supporters that have lost their freshness, half price.

Bone Hair Pins, several styles, 25c a dozen.

Kindergarten Beads, all colors, in wooden boxes, 10c a box.

Small lot of 75c Nail Brushes—will sell for 50c each.

Stay-where-sewed Eyes, commonly known as the Granger Invisible Eye. The particular shape of these eyes gives them their notoriety; six sizes; fit the corresponding size in any make of hook. Two dozen card, 10c; $1 dozen cards.

Solid Comfort for Baby, peace of mind for the mother, if the child wears "Arnold" Light Weight Underwear during the summer months.

All interested in the care and health of little folk are invited to inspect our complete line of "Arnold" Specialties.

The demand for a light, soft vest for infants has at last been supplied. The "Arnold" Undervest, knit (flat, not ribbed) of worsted and cotton, equal parts, with short or long sleeves, high or low neck, as soft as silk and with heavily silk finished edges, is the most perfect garment of the kind ever put on the market.

All sizes, 65 cents to 90 cents. Other "Arnold" Goods for little ones.

Pretty Summer Silks—Cheap!

Almost the whole of the Fifth street aisle from Penn avenue to the entrance on Fifth street is given over to silks at special prices.

Colored Silks—nearly every kind, not forgetting the popular pongee—all more or less underprice.

A specially excellent corded Habutai Silk, soft, light in weight, washable—a quality that was very low priced when we sold it for 45c—here today at 35c a yard.

Fancy broché and stripe Taffetas, all the colors that women admire—heretofore selling for 85c and $1 a yard, selling now for 50c a yard.

Striped and brocaded Taffetas, together with pretty Pailett de Soie, something equally nice for the separate waist or entire gown—a quality that usually sells for $1.25 a yard, and which we are now selling for 65c a yard.

A beautiful white Taffeta for waists, cord effects and lace stripe effects—something that usually costs you $1, sold by us for 85c a yard.

Embroidered Pongee—neat designs on genuine Shantung Pongee—quite correct for the shirtwaist suit, 75c a yard.

Moire Velour, a silk with a velvety touch, a Summer novelty of great merit, all the leading colorings, including white, ivory and cream—85c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 a yard.

New Wrist Bags.

By the hundreds. If you don't care to follow Fashion then there are the Chatelaines. But women who like to be up-to-date must wear the Wrist Bag.

Newest shapes and colorings in sea lion, walrus, seal, suede and lizard skin. $1 and along to $15.

A very neat Wrist Bag of walrus—black, tan, brown and gray—selling usually for 75c, but our price a quarter less—50c.

Chatelaine Bags still have their admirers. Every leather that is used. A great range of prices between 50c and $15.

Hand-made Crochet Bags in steel, $1.50 to $4.50.

Outdoor Furniture.

Variety is the spice of Porch Furniture. We have lots and lots of quaint shapes in reed, willow and rattan.

Rockers, Chairs, Tables, Lounges and Swings.

Each and every piece bubbling over with inviting comfort and restful ease.

And those Swings! Nicest things ever was for porch and lawn. Liked most by young people.

Most of this cozy porch furniture inexpensive.

To English-Americans.

No doubt this day week your mind will be some thousands of miles away from Pittsburg—in London-town, where the coronation takes place.

You will like to commemorate the day as a matter of course. Although an American, you still have lots of good will for your native country.

We have a fine lot of English Flags, both of silk and wool.

Call and see them on the Fifth floor.

HUNDREDS BARED THEIR ARMS TO THE VIRUS POINT

City Physicians Making a Strenuous Campaign Against Smallpox.

TWO MORE DEATHS RESULT

Donald Reed, a Child, Succumbed to the Disease at the Municipal Hospital—His Mother, Also There, Has Not Been Notified.

The city physicians carried forward the crusade against smallpox yesterday. Eight doctors, armed with 2,000 virus points, invaded the Laurel street district yesterday morning, and, after vaccinating 500 persons in this street, went into Wylie and Herron avenues and vaccinated 200 residents. In addition to this there were 300 persons vaccinated at the safety building. Two deaths occurred at the municipal hospital, making nine that have succumbed to the disease this year. There were seven houses released from quarantine during the day.

The doctors started to work early. They had visited Laurel street on Tuesday and vaccinated 125 persons, but a majority of the residents in this section learned of their intended invasion and disappeared for the time. Over half the residents in this street could not be found by the doctors.

Yesterday they had the street quarantined before daylight and the residents were compelled to remain within the lines until the physicians arrived. Shortly after 5 o'clock they came and began an investigation of the houses they had visited the day before. The object of their early start was to prevent any detention of the men from going to their work at 7 o'clock. By that hour they had most of the men vaccinated.

Then they started in on the children and women. Before leaving this street, 500 persons had been subjected to the virus treatment. At noon the doctors had vaccinated all persons living within 200 yards of the affected houses.

Made a Clean Sweep.

In the afternoon they went to the Wylie avenue and Herron avenue districts, where they did most of their work. They also vaccinated a number of persons in Washington avenue during the afternoon.

The district physicians were kept busy all day, and last night it was estimated that 4,000 citizens had been vaccinated by these doctors. In the East End district, especially, there was a disposition on the part of the citizens to be vaccinated.

City Physician B. A. Booth was engaged during the day examining suspects. He was compelled to make three trips to the South Side and Mt. Washington. There were seven suspects picked up during the day by the police and physicians, most of whom were Hungarians and were suffering with some skin affliction, which had been mistaken for smallpox.

Two of the health officers were looking for an escaped suspect in Mt. Washington in the afternoon. He left a house in Francis street over a week ago, and has been living in Mt. Washington. He was traced to a house in Southern avenue, and when the officers went there they learned that he had disappeared. They were also informed that he was ill and the family suspected he had smallpox. The house was placed in quarantine and the inmates vaccinated.

No exceptions are being made by the smallpox physicians. Persons of all ages are vaccinated. Babies three days old were submitted to the virus point. Dr. Booth said that there has been a disposition on the part of parents to neglect vaccinating their infant children. At the present time there are 39 children in the hospital from two months to seven years of age. In not one instance had any of these victims been vaccinated.

Yesterday's Smallpox Deaths.

The eighth death from smallpox at the Municipal hospital was that of Donald Reed of No. 2448 Webster avenue. The child had never been vaccinated and was taken to the hospital on June 9. His mother was stricken with the disease two days later, and she was removed to the hospital. She has not been acquainted with the death of her child.

The ninth death was that of Mrs. William Gill, of No. 15 Francis street, who died at the Municipal hospital yesterday afternoon with smallpox. She had been in the hospital for two weeks and reached the hemorrhagic state on Sunday. This condition of the disease always proves fatal. She will be buried in the hospital burying grounds.

Yesterday 7,000 virus points were distributed at the safety building to citizens and physicians. The various health authorities in the surrounding boroughs are beginning to take an active part in the vaccinating of their citizens. Compulsory vaccination is being carried on in these boroughs. The Bellevue health board especialy is active in efforts to prevent a smallpox epidemic in that section. At present there is only one case of smallpox in that borough.

There was but one patient received at the Municipal hospital yesterday, L. A. Mitchell of Plymouth and Virginia avenues. He had formerly lived at No. 1178 Forty-second street. His brother, J. A. Mitchell, was sent to the Municipal hospital on June 7 from this place. The house was placed in quarantine, but before the health officer arrived to guard the place Mitchell escaped. Yesterday he was taken ill at his boarding house on Mount Washington, and word was sent to Dr. Booth about him. This house was placed in quarantine.

Anti-Vaccine Cranks.

The health officers are now being troubled with the anti-vaccine cranks. Yesterday there were several thousand circulars distributed in the districts where smallpox physicians have been vaccinating. These circulars claim that "smallpox is nature's method of cleansing the blood;" that "vaccination causes consumption, withered arms, lameness and blindness."

The circular also states that the city of Cleveland is free from smallpox by reason of the fact that vaccination has been abolished there. Dr. B. A. Booth said yesterday that these circulars would have a tendency to interfere in the work of vaccinating people in the poor districts. These people are not intelligent enough to understand the good results that are accomplished by vaccination.

The detectives are now looking for the persons who distributed these circulars.

The McKeesport health authorities are in a quandary as to the proper action to take with John Connors, who claims he lived in a Donora boarding house that sheltered several smallpox victims. Connors says that after the quarantine was lifted he left the boarding house, but when he returned, he found another boarder had the disease. To escape quarantine, he went to McKeesport.

Thomas Minot, 17 years of age, son of Mrs. Margaret Minot, of No. 1231 Talbot avenue, Brave smallpox. A watchman was placed to guard the house.

William Sticker, 12 years of age, of Sycamore street, Etna, was found yesterday to have smallpox. The house was quarantined.

SHEPHERD IS FOR HIGH SALARIES

SUPERINTENDENT OF BUREAU OF WATER SUPPLY HEARD.

Recommends More Money for Engineers at Pumping Stations—Incidentally It Is Learned That Shepherd Has Nothing to Do With Work on Reservoir No. 2.

At yesterday's session of the salary revision committee of Pittsburgh councils the Highland reservoir No. 2 scandal got another airing. It was while Supt. A. B. Shepherd of the bureau of water supply and distribution was on the witness stand. It was evident from the statements of Supt. Shepherd that he is not enthusiastic over the procrastinating policy the city administration has seen fit to adopt concerning this great improvement.

Supt. Shepherd took pains to make it clear to the committee that he has nothing at present to do with this reservoir and that Engineer John H. Trimble of Carnegie, who is in charge of the work there, does not report to him, and that he knows nothing about Mr. Trimble's work or his capacity.

Supt. Shepherd was asked whether the work on Highland reservoir No. 2 is under the direction of his bureau, and stated that it is not. Supt. Shepherd's statements concerning the reservoir came in brief answers as questions were asked by Chairman William H. Stevenson or by Christ F. Beckert, Jr., of the committee, but connectedly they were as follows:

Gave Finley a Recommendation.

"I was in charge of the work on the reservoir up until the time Mr. Trimble was made engineer. Prior to that the work was under my bureau, under the direct supervision of Charles A. Finley, who was one of my assistant engineers, and who reported to me. He was relieved from the work. Before Mr. Trimble was appointed I requested the director of the department to relieve me from this work. He did so, and I have had nothing to do with it since."

Supt. Shepherd was asked concerning Mr. Finley's ability, and said he considered him a very capable man. He was asked concerning Mr. Trimble's ability, and said he knew nothing about it. He was asked which of the two is the more capable man, and said he did not know. He said Mr. Finley received $2,000 a year, but that he knows nothing officially as to Mr. Trimble's salary. "I am not connected with the reservoir, and anything I would tell you about it would be only hearsay," he said.

Supt. Shepherd then explained the salaries of the men in his bureau. He gets $4,000 a year himself, his chief clerk $2,400, his assistant engineer $2,000, four office clerks $75 a month each, and two $65 each. An exhaustive examination was had as to the duties of the various employes.

Increases in Salaries Suggested.

Being asked for recommendations, Supt. Shepherd recommended that the salary of the chief engineer at Brilliant station be increased from $2,000 a year to $2,400. He urged also an increase in the salaries of the engineers at the Herron Hill pumping station and the other stations.

Supt. Shepherd told the committee that half the water pumped by the city is wasted by citizens. He said the installation of meters would do away with the greater part of this waste.

Supt. G. W. Moore of the bureau of city property was before the committee with reference to the employes of his bureau, their duties and the salaries they receive. Moore gets $2,400 a year. He has charge of City hall, the market houses, the wharves and landings, and of the repairing of city weigh scales. Mr. Moore admitted that he makes a contribution for political purposes to the city organization. Supt. Shepherd also admitted that he had contributed for political purposes, but left the impression that he had not contributed for some time. He told the committee that he paid the money to the chief clerk of the public works department. The committee did not ask him who this chief clerk was, but it was learned after the meeting that it was Joseph Bingaman.

The committee will meet again Friday, and will then examine into the bureaus of viewers, light, water assessments and parks.

Notice.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Second National bank of Pittsburgh, held June 18, 1902, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That it is with deep regret we learn of the death of John G. Stephenson, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday morning, June 17th, 1902, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Stephenson became identified with this bank at its inception many years ago and for the past 10 years has served as a director. We bear grateful witness to the ability, courtesy and fidelity with which he discharged the duties of that office. He contributed to the counsels of our board the advantage of good judgment and knowledge gained by a long business experience, and no small part of the prosperity of this bank may be attributed to his sagacity and unremitting care of its interests.

In this community, in which Mr. Stephenson was so widely known, whether as a successful business man, a public-spirited citizen or a Christian gentleman, he has been trusted by all, and we remember with pride his untiring fidelity to the many duties imposed upon him.

Though gone from among us at the end of a long, useful and busy career, he has left the record of a noble life that may well become an example and inspiration to succeeding generations of business men in this great city.

We hesitate to intrude upon the domestic sorrow of those who were nearer to him than we, but we beg leave to tender to his family our sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

JAMES H. WILLOCK,
President.

GRAND CONCERT!

Carriages will be in readiness to convey investors and visitors to any part of the property. The conveyances will meet passengers at the corner of Park and Hawkins Avenues as the excursion trains and Yellow Line Traction cars arrive.

While the sale is going on there will be many novel features in progress to "break the monotony."

The new Carnegie Library Band, of 42 pieces, has been engaged for the occasion and will render an elaborate and appropriate program. The organization is made up of highly educated musicians with a resulting perfect ensemble. This will be the first appearance of the Carnegie Library Band in their new uniforms.

Sale ...Occurs Rain or Shine

Keep your eyes on our advertisements.

We have arranged to give you a surprise that we are not now privileged to say anything about.

Thousands will be excited and attracted by this surprise.

It will set a new pace in real estate annals.

NEW CAR LINE WILL INCREASE VALUE OF THIS PROPERTY TO FIVE TIMES THE PRESENT PRICES.

TRAIN SCHEDULE:

The free excursion from Pittsburgh will leave Union Depot on the Pennsylvania Main Line at 1:50 P. M., City Time, stopping at East Liberty, 2:02; Homewood, 2:05; Wilkinsburg, 2:09; and Swissvale, 2:13.

The free excursion train from Greensburg will leave Greensburg from P. R. R. Depot, 10:57 A. M., City Time, stopping at Jeannette, 11:08; Irwin, 11:20; Pitcairn, 11:34; Wilmerding, 11:38, and East Pittsburgh, 11:42.

Passengers from McKeesport, Riverton, Demmler and Port Perry can take Yellow Cars on Monongahela Traction Line and get off at property, corner Hawkins and Park Avenues, at end of the High Bridge. Carfare will be refunded to those who present the free coupons now being distributed. But don't forget to send in for your free coupons at once. Don't send for more than you and your friends will need, as the number issued will be limited.

GRAND AUCTION SALE:

Twenty of the best lots in this plan will be auctioned off in special feature sales which will be inaugurated after the excursion trains have arrived.

Ten of the lots will be auctioned off in the morning and ten in the afternoon. The highest bidder will get the lot, no matter how low the bid. The second series of auction sales will be inaugurated at 2:30 P. M. This will give the men who work in the mills an opportunity to attend the sale during their half-holiday. The lots will not be held on the auction block for a longer period than five minutes.

ASTONISHMENT EXPRESSED OVER THE MARVELOUS CHANGE AND IMPROVEMENTS!

Braddock Park Plan of Lots is not a rifle's shot from Braddock and adjoins North Braddock Borough, skirting the property of Judge William G. Hawkins. It is directly back of the city lowland that marks the business district and downtown section. It is the very center of the new section which is esteemed high-class and preferred for modern homes. Palatial residences are all around it. Property here has changed hands at ten to twenty times the original figures paid for it, and acreage beyond Braddock Park Plan of Lots that sold for $24,000 not long ago is today held at $75,000. People who have not seen how Hawkins Avenue and other adjoining property has built up in the last five years will be astonished at the marvelous change. Investments that you could have made in neighboring property with $200 a few years ago would now take $4,000 to $5,000. No man who has not made investigation could begin to see how such a thrilling transfiguration could be possible. But the proofs are here on the grounds just as prominently as they're stated in the newspapers, and when investors see them they will not be slow in snapping up lots at $100, $200, $300 and $400 that are really worth at this very moment twice the figures at which this sale makes it possible for you to buy them.

Choice lots at this first BIG SALE OF BRADDOCK PARK PLAN OF LOTS will go at:

$100, $200, $300 to $500

ON TERMS OF

10% DOWN AND BALANCE 3% PER MONTH.

No Interest Will Be Charged for Two Years, And No Taxes Until Delivery of Deed.

Cash purchasers will be allowed a discount of 10 per cent when full amount is paid within sixty days from date of purchase.

Title guaranteed to us by the Fidelity Title & Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital $1,000,000.

Investors who get on the grounds early when the excursion trains arrive will see opportunity to snap up lots at $100 to $300 that cannot help but earn them $1,000 as soon as the new car line is completed. These are important facts to remember. If you push in with the first army of shrewd ones you will be able to capture some nice frontage along the new car line that you can sell to later comers at fully twice the figures you will have paid.

It will pay you to watch our maps and printed matter and learn just where the new car line is going to be built. We cannot give you all of the information in one ad. We have literature which tells particulars, that you can secure at any time.

There is no other part of the great Pittsburgh Iron and Steel region so extensively dotted with giant industries as the immediate country surrounding Braddock Park Plan of Lots. Yet the belching smokestacks are removed a sufficient distance to keep the soot and dirt away from the property, but close enough to make it convenient for a well-paid army of 64,000 workmen to go to and from their daily toil, content when in their own homes, and on their own pleasure grounds (for which many of them will lay the foundation at this great sale) to look down through miles of the most picturesque scenery in the Monongahela Valley upon a Billion-Dollar world-famed panorama of enterprises that pour out every two weeks in workmen's wages a sum reliably computed to reach $3,620,000. Just consider what this means! $3,620,000 in wages going out twice a month, and confined to a radius of less than six miles. Yet this expanse of monster industries which is sending out such enormous wage distributing wealth and keeping Braddock Real Estate bounding up in price continually is soon to be augmented by the addition of one great new blast furnace at the Carrie Plant, two great new blast furnaces at the Edgar Thomson Plant, and an immense new billet mill at the Edgar Thomson Plant. These three mammoth industries alone will give employment to a new army of wage winners which will number not less than 4,500 and may reach 7,000.

The great new mills and furnaces are within sight of the property. The Yellow Cars on the Monongahela Traction Line, in reality connect the property with 42 of the greatest industries in the valley. Half of these industries are within eight to fifteen minutes' ride and all of them can be reached with five-cent fare. In fact, a five-cent carfare will take you from the plan to Wilkinsburg, East Pittsburgh, Homestead, Swissvale, Duquesne, Wilmerding and Pitcairn. You can go on the Wilkinsburg & East Pittsburgh Branch of the Yellow Line direct, without transfer, to Pittsburgh. You can catch these cars in Pittsburgh on Sixth Avenue, Seventh Street, Penn Avenue, Cecil Alley and on Fifth Avenue.

You get off the cars at Hawkins Avenue, at the foot of Park Avenue, which is really a boulevard winding through and intersecting the property

The new electric line to be built from Braddock to Wilkinsburg will run from the High Bridge at the corner of Hawkins and Park Avenues, near the P. R. R., and continue out this thoroughfare, through the plan, to Wilkins Avenue, where it will pass the doors of the choice home sites and cut the running distance and time schedule down fully 30 per cent.

MAKING FIGHT FOR REMOVAL OF THIEL COLLEGE

Greensburg Delegation Is Urging Claims of That Town.

BETHANY ELECTS BOARD

Pittsburghers Are Selected as Trustees and the Tenure of Office Is Changed from Life to Three Years. Marietta Graduates.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greenville, Pa., June 18.—This was the busiest day of Thiel commencement week exercises. The Alumni association met in Trinity Lutheran church. The orator was H. L. Keck of Greenville and the poet the Rev. J. E. Whitaker of Lancaster. After President Herbert H. Harman's address, the following program was presented: Class history, Anna R. Forster; poem, Fred J. Berrimore; advice to 1903, W. H. Wineman; class prophecy, Eva M. Bacher; class will, Marie Dickey; presentation to college, G. F. Hieber; farewell address, W. P. Tillotson. The college glee club and college orchestra, assisted by Miss Mabel Lininger, soprano; Mrs. H. L. Keck, contralto; Harry Brockett, tenor; E. D. Fuller, bass, and Mrs. Ada J. Tedyman, organist, rendered "The Messiah."

Interest is centering around the question as to whether the college is to remain in Greenville or be removed to some other locality. The question is debated on every hand. It is generally believed that a decision will be reched before the end of the week. A large delegation is here from Greensburg urging that the school be located there.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 18.—(Special.)—Today was class day at the commencement exercises of the University of West Virginia. The seniors who participated were A. G. Hughes, who delivered the address of welcome; Miss Lena Provins, historian; Miss Maude Bennett, artist; L. P. Miller, poet; Miss Frances Miller, prophet; Leo Loeb, valedictorian; M. M. Neely and James Moreland, who addressed the juniors and faculty respectively.

Pittsburghers Elected Trustees.

WELLSBURG, W. VA., June 18.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the directors of Bethany college an important change was made in method of electing members of the board. Instead of choosing them for life they will serve three years, ten being elected each year. New directors are Dr. C. Evans, Mrs. Margaret Evans and W. A. Dinker, Pittsburgh; W. S. Kidd, Mc-Kees Rocks; U. G. Norton, Connellsville, and John Naylor, Wheeling. Trustee W. C. Lynne of Pittsburgh gave 1,500 volumes to the library, which will hereafter be known as the Lynne library. Dr. Cranablett has been notified that he will receive the degree of LL. D. from the Western University of Pennsylvania tomorrow night.

Prof. B. L. Kershner of Chicago will succeed Prof. J. T. Barclay in the chair of Greek. Prof. T. L. Feeney, who fills the chair of natural sciences, goes to Oxford, O., and will be succeeded by Prof. Walter T. Hertzog of California, Pa. Mrs. Hertzog will be principal of Phillips Hall, succeeding Miss Mary E. Shafer resigned. Miss Edith Cogswell of Cretened succeeds Miss Shafer in the chair of English and oratory.

GIFT FOR U. OF P.

Joseph Wharton Raises Endowment of School of Finance and Economy to $500,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The 146th commencement of the University of Pennsylvania was held in the Academy of Music today. During the exercises Provost Harrison anounced that Joseph Wharton, founder of the Wharton school of finance and economy at the university, has increased his endowment of the school from $200,000 to $500,000. The information came as a complete surprise to the large gathering and was greeted with cheers.

In making the announcement, Provost Harrison said:

The purposes of this school, as expressed in the original deed of gift, are to secure an adequate training in the principles underlying successful civil government and to provide a training suitable for those who intend to engage in business and to undertake the management of property. It has long been apparent that the constantly increasing demand for such instruction could not be satisfied by the school as at present constituted. The question of improving it and extending its scope has therefore engaged the serious attention of the faculty, trustees and founder, with the result of the increased endowment now promised.

was struck by a rock and one of her arms badly hurt. A reporter who was in the mill was hit on the head with a stone and his scalp laid open. The mob swarmed into the mill and saw that no one remained, but still those on the outside kept up the bombardment.

The mill would have been wrecked inside as well as out had not a patrol wagon loaded with officers charged through the mob on Cliff street. Rocks rained down on it and none of the officers escaped. Patrolman Irving Post saw a man hurl a rock and fired. The bullet struck the rioter in the neck. Before the officers could get to the man he was hauled into the mob and hurried away. With revolvers drawn the officers quickly deployed and the mob fell back.

A block away Galleano again appeared and led the men to Pelgram & Myers' mill where the employes were compelled to come out. Flushed with success the mob pushed across the Main street bridge and six more mills were closed.

Held at Bay by One Man.

The Hall mill, which shelters four silk working firms, was the next point of attack. A single policeman guarded the main entrance. He was ordered to stand aside and on refusing was attacked. He drew his revolver and began to fire. Lora Salvino, an Italian, 24 years old, who lives and works in Hackensack, received the first bullet, which penetrated both lungs. The mob drew back and the officer remained in his post in the doorway.

Several shots were fired at him but none took effect. He replied, firing directly into the crowd until his weapon was empty, when five more uniformed men and one in plain clothes came on a run through Fulton street. The mob kept on firing and the officers charged, firing, when the strikers broke and ran. Spectators say that fully 100 shots were fired. Salvino was left behind, and was taken to the hospital. One hundred and 50 hats were picked up in the street afterward which were lost in the wild scramble to get away. There is no doubt that several of the rioters were hurt.

Firemen Called Out.

It was about this time that Mayor Hinchcliffe called on the firemen for aid and men were detailed from each company and armed, and during the afternoon rendered efficient service.

The shooting seemed to scatter the rioters, but it was not long before a dense mob had formed again, this time about the Gaede mill in Straight sereet, where there was a crowd of 2,000. Half of them were rioters and the rest onlookers. The mill was bombarded and before the mob stopped there was not a whole window in the building.

Harry Harris, a reporter on the Morning Call, was at this point. He was armed with a revolver and had a camera with which he attempted to take pictures standing on a stoop a short distance down the street. His act of training the camera was seen and he was warned to desist.

A moment later a rain of stones fell about him and he was knocked down. As he fell men rushed on him and he was kicked and beaten. He drew his revolver and tried to use it, but it jammed and was kicked from his hands. A man grabbed it and fired at Harris, the bullet entering his chest. He has a slight chance of recovery. By this time the mill was emptied of the operatives and this practically ended the rioting for the day, after all of the mills had closed down.

This afternoon the anarchists, who seemed to be in command were openly threatening that a policeman's life would pay for each wounded rioter.

Paupers' Remains Must Go to Dissecting Table; New Railroad Yards Are Opened at Uniontown.

UNDERTAKERS' TRUST BROKEN

No More Paupers Are to Be Buried by the City of New Castle.

THE LAW TO BE ENFORCED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 18.—The trust recently formed by the local undertakers to regulate the price of burials of the pauper dead will result in the loss of all such cases, as the state authorities have taken the matter up. Dr. Andrew Hewston of Philadelphia, secretary of the State Anatomical society, arrived here last night to investigate the matter and had a long conference with Director of Charities Robert W. McCandless. Dr. Hewston was astonished to learn that the city had been burying many of its pauper dead, instead of sending them to the State Anatomical society for use in the dissecting rooms of the state medical societies, as required by law.

Dr. Hewston gave explicit orders that hereafter the city shall bury no paupers, but shall forward the bodies to the state authorities for disposition. The same practice will be insisted upon all over the state and Dr. Hewston will visit every city and town in this part of the state to enforce the law.

The local undertakers formerly buried city cases at $18, but a few days ago they formed a compact and raised the rate to $25 for the same service.

DORMAN WILL SERVE A LIFE SENTENCE

Pardon Board Saves the Neck of the Accomplice of the Biddles—Mrs. Kahney Ill.

Walter Dorman did not manifest any feeling yesterday when he learned that the board of pardons had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. He has expected this extension for some time. Dorman is worried, however, about his existence in the penitentiary. He told County Detective Robert G. Robinson yesterday that he knew that he would be shunned by the other prisoners for having turned state's evidence on his former partners in crime. Their contempt would be hard to bear, he said.

Dorman blames Barnet Werbe, the "fence" of Detroit, for his trouble. He said the Biddles would not be dead, and he would not have to spend the remainder of his life in the penitentiary had Werbe been fair with them.

He told Detective Kelly he had sent thousands of dollars' worth of plunder to him, and in return he sent them very little money. He and Ed Biddle had talked over their trouble with Werbe, and decided to break into stores and get money enough to have some tools made to break safes with. After this they intended to leave this city and go to Canada. There they would confine their work to banks.

It was for that reason that they entered the Kahney store. Dorman said that he was sorry for Mrs. Kahney, and was grateful to her for having written to the pardon board in his behalf. He said that this was done on account of his aiding in bringing about justice for the murder of her husband. Mrs. Kahney is now compelled to make her living by taking in washing. She is living in Beltzhoover and is almost penniless. Her son Carl has just recovered from typhoid fever.

Dorman will be taken to the penitentiary in a few days, when the commutation papers are received by Sheriff McKinley. Dorman still writes to his common law wife, Jessie Seebers, who was arrested with him here and afterward released on a parole.

THIRD DEATH FROM SHOOTING EXPECTED

Another Victim of Ohio Tragedy Thought to Be Fatally Wounded.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, June 18.—Mrs. John Dull, wife of the Hungarian boarding-house keeper who was shot by James Scott while crazed by drink last night, died today. Jones, his other victim, will be buried tomorrow.

There may also be a third victim. Andy Sancho, a Hungarian miner, who boarded at Dull's house, ran around the house when he heard the first shot and Scott turned upon him and fired. The bullet lodged at the base of the tongue. Sancho was brought to a Wheeling hospital for treatment and may die.

The negro miners of Connersville all left the town today, fearing violence by the maddened Hungarians, who have been in an ugly mood since Scott was taken to Steubenville by the sheriff.

RIOT AT MINGO JUNCTION.

Citizens Tore Up Railroad Track and Mayor Is Injured.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 18.—(Special.)—A fierce riot between Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad laborers and citizens of Mingo Junction raged tonight, ending in a victory for the Mingo people.

The former attempted to lay a track at Junction street. Mayor O'Connell, citizens and the fire department rushed to the scene. They tore up the track, arrested the foreman and chased the laborers away. Many bruised heads resulted, the mayor having a rib broken by a blow from a crowbar.

NEW RAILROAD YARDS OPENED

Handling of Coke Cars Is Greatly Facilitated at Uniontown.

WABASH EXTENSION RUMOR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 18.—A great change was inaugurated today in the handling of coke from the Masontown field. Today the big yards of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad at Rainey Junction, at the southern edge of Uniontown, were opened and all freight from the Masontown coke region will be gathered to that point. The train dispatcher's office was moved from Coal Lick Junction to Rainey Junction. The material is on the ground for a roundhouse for 21 engines. Five miles of yard track is rapidly being finished. All trains from the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad will run through Uniontown to Rainey Junction, where trains will be made up. About 250 trainmen will be centered at the new yard.

A large corps of engineers yesterday began to survey a railroad route from Main street, Uniontown, to the Monongahela river, following closely the line of the Coal Lick run branch and practically over the route surveyed by W. C. Jutte's engineers, when they laid out the Uniontown & Wheeling railroad. It is said that J. V. Thompson, the banker and coal operator, has purchased Jutte's charter and rights of way. Persons close to the purchasers say the road is to be built in connection with the Wabash.

WOMEN REPORT ON CONDITION OF THE CITY STREETS

Uncertain Collection of Garbage Greatest Menace to Public Health.

SHOULD PROVIDE CANS

Streets and Alleys That Need Attention from Health Officials—Permanent Civic Committee of Club Women Held Meeting Yesterday.

Well-known club women yesterday made reports on the dirty condition of crowded portions of the city that will give the public officials something to investigate. The reports come from women who have made excursions through sections of the city in the interest of the public health.

Mrs. Franklin P. Iams presided at the meeting of the street-cleaning department of the Permanent Civic Committee of Club Women, and her sergeants—women appointed to observe the conditions in various sections of the city—made reports. After hearing the reports the uncertain collection of garbage seemed to be the greatest menace to the public. Certain portions of the Herron hill district are subject to a collection at varying intervals. Mrs. Iams yesterday said:

"When Pittsburgh pays $60,000 a year for the collection of garbage some way must be found whereby all the people of Pittsburgh may receive attention. The collectors refuse to take refuse from boxes and barrels and the poor people cannot afford to buy garbage cans, so we must devise some way by which garbage cans can be purchased for them, which the collectors cannot refuse to empty. They might be purchased by the city or some other way be found. We think it a very encouraging sign that in certain districts which were the subject of complaint a few days ago our complaints were courteously received and already we see signs of improvement."

The reports brought in yesterday cover the Herron hill district, Soho, the Point, Birmingham, Lawrenceville and Allentown.

Alleys Need Paving.

In the Herron hill district in the Thirteenth ward conditions were found to be pretty fair in the upper part, but in the lower section about Kirkpatrick street are a number of unpaved alleys where the filth seems to be of long standing. The only remedy suggested by the women is paving these alleys so that they can be thoroughly cleaned.

The member of the committee sent to lower Birmingham reported conditions bad, and they are not better out Brownsville avenue and in Allentown. In the Point district the conditions were found to be fair, considering the class of people living there. The Soho region is in better condition than some of the others. On Green street there are vacant lots where refuse is deposited and the odor invades all the neighboring streets and houses. On Chauncey street is a public dump, which has been there for a long time, and the place has always been in bad condition, throwing out noxious odors.

Attention was called a few days ago to an unused building in the Twentieth ward whose plumbing was in bad condition with open sewers nearby. It was visited by inspectors from the bureau of highways and sewers and from the bureau of health and has been torn down. Other buildings which threaten contagion are being looked after.

Doing Systematic Work.

The street cleaning department of the Permanent Civic Committee of Club Women is systematically arranging its work so that it can co-operate with the bureau of health. The city has been divided into districts with several members of the department to look after each one. A sub-chairman has been appointed for the Allegheny district and the women who will compose the workers for the North Side will be those who live there. The Allegheny sub-department will be under the general street cleaning department, of which Mrs. Iams is general chairman, with Mrs. B. L. Hirshfield as general secretary. Mrs. W. L. Price is the Allegheny sub-chairman.

Some of the women having supervision of Pittsburgh city districts are Mrs. W. D. Grimes, Birmingham and Allentown; Mrs. Charles Fairman, the Wylie avenue district; Mrs. Robert D. Coard, Nineteenth ward and temporarily the Soho district; Mrs. Ludwig Koethen, Jr., Thirteenth ward, Herron hill; Mrs. Alfred Longmore, Fourteenth ward; Mrs. Roger Aiken, Nineteenth and Twentieth wards; Miss Lillie Schleiter, the Point district along the Allegheny river; Mrs. Dr. Covert, the Lawrenceville neighborhood, assisted by the members of the Lawrenceville New Century club; Miss Grace Henderson, the Allegheny branch; Miss Helen Grimes, the Mt. Washington district; Mrs. Dr. Miller, Temperanceville.

SOLD RIVETS TOO LOW.

Purchasers Became Suspicious of Carr, Notified the Detectives and He Was Arrested.

A. S. Carr of No. 1014 Madison avenue, Thirteenth ward, was arrested yesterday charged with being a suspicious person. It is alleged that he secured money by false pretense. He was a former employe of the Eclipse Manufacturing Company of Thirty-eighth street.

Yesterday he went to the Eclipse offices and secured 12 kegs of rivets, representing that he was employed by the Somers, Fitler & Todd Company of No. 325 Water street. It is also alleged that he went to the firm of James E. Morrison & Co., Water street, and represented himself as an agent of a St. Louis company. He told them he had six kegs of rivets that were of a wrong size and he would sell them for $10 50. A check for that amount was given to him.

It is alleged that he then went to the Chester B. Albree iron works at No. 1115 Market street, Allegheny, where he represented himself as a salesman for a St. Louis company and sold the remaining six kegs for $21 25.

Both firms became suspicious because of the reduced rate at which the rivets were sold, and notified the detective bureaus of Allegheny and Pittsburgh. Detectives Albert Swinehart and Harry Jones arrested Carr at a bank when he attempted to have a check cashed.

Allegheny Driver Killed.

Evans Davies of Allegheny, a driver for the Pittsburgh Provision Company, was instantly killed at Copeland station, Braddock, by the Pennsylvania limited yesterday morning. He was driving between two sections of a freight train at the time. The wagon was smashed and the horse killed, while the load of meat was scattered for some distance.

Pittsburghers to Call on Knox.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—(Special.)—Ex-Mayor W. J. Diehl and James W. Brown of Pittsburgh and J. M. Lambertson of Harrisburg arrived here tonight. Tomorrow they will call upon Attorney General Knox and invite him to address the grand lodge of Masons when it meets in Philadelphia in September.

SECRETLY AND QUIETLY.

Coffee Slowly and Steadily Poisons Some Persons.

There is no doubt that coffee secretly and quietly causes an immense amount of misery to the human race, but in the majority of cases the person does not suspect the cause of the trouble.

A Virginia lady had an interesting experiment with coffee poison. She says: "For about five years I was troubled with indigestion, weak stomach and palpitation of the heart so bad that at times I would fall and have to be carried into the house. Finally I began to have spasms and suffered untold misery. I tried all kinds of patent medicines and different doctors, only to get temporary relief.

"I finally gave up all hope of getting well. My stomach was in such condition that everything but stale bread would throw me into spasms. I nearly starved myself, but never suspected that coffee was the cause of all the trouble, nor did I have any idea what the cause was.

"One day father told me he had been reading how Postum Food Coffee helped so many people who were sick from coffee drinking, and he urged me to leave off coffee and try Postum. I said, 'Oh, father, I cannot try it and do not believe it would do me any good', but he persuaded me to try a package.

"The first making tasted so flat that it made me half sick, but I determined to give it a fair trial, so I read the directions carefully and found that it must be boiled at least fifteen minutes. Well, I boiled it 25 minutes, then added some good cream, and I tell you it was delicious. I like it better than the ordinary coffee and, of course, stick to it.

"Well, I have been using it since the 16th of July now, quite two months. I have gained about 25 pounds. I gained six pounds in 13 weeks, and can eat anything I want and all that I want. My stomach never hurts me. I have gained strength until now I can do my own work and go to church every Sunday.

"People say, 'You are looking so well, what kind of medicine are you taking?' I tell them I have quit all kinds of medicine and also coffee and am only using Postum Coffee.

"You may be sure I will recommend it and will guarantee a cure where the person will boil it long enough and drink enough of it. I would do without a meal for the sake of one cup of Postum.

"I could tell a lot more, but space will not permit. You are at liberty to print this letter and my name also for the benefit of others." Mrs. A. T. Brown, Central Station, W. Va.

"WORN OUT IN MIND AND BODY"

Pe-ru-na Tones Up the Entire System by Cleansing the Mucous Surfaces of the Whole Body.

Mr. Hugh McLaughlin, 205 Coubent street, San Antonio, Texas, official stenographer of the U. S. Court, Western District of Texas, writes:

"My official duties have at times required constant attention and application about eighteen hours out of twenty-four. After a week of exertion I have found myself so worn-out in mind and body that it seemed that I must give up.

"Last winter at the close of session of court, the severest in my experience, I was simply a physical wreck, unable to eat or sleep. In my extremity a messenger of help came in the shape of one of your little booklets. I read it with interest and that night bought a bottle of Peruna. It seemed a veritable elixir of life to me and I only took it for three weeks to renew my strength."—Hugh McLaughlin.

In systemic catarrh there is more or less catarrh of every organ in the body. The catarrh may have originated in the head or throat, but it has finally pervaded the whole system. It produces a wretched condition.

The mucous membranes of the whole body refuse to do their work properly. Sight, hearing and taste are slightly affected. The lungs are weak; the voice husky. The tonsils are red and inflamed. The stomach does not digest food well. The liver acts sluggishly. The nervous system gradually becomes deranged.

Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—systemic catarrh. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause; Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes systemic catarrh the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong, and trouble vanishes.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

A Free-for-All Fight.

It is about settled that the voters of Allegheny county will have unusually good opportunities of choice at the next election. Instead of an organization slate and a perfunctory opposition ticket, heretofore often made up with a co-operative understanding, there will be real candidates and an active competition for public favor. This is a disturbance of the ordinary routine of political arrangements in Allegheny county that will not be relished by old stagers, and it may result in extensive changes in the public offices. The policy pursued by the old organization has been such as to invite independent action and at the same time provide it with ample opportunity. The Gazette urged the propriety of postponing nominations for county offices until after the state convention. Then a representative ticket might have been nominated in accord with existing conditions, but this did not agree with the plans conceived by the management of the old organization, with a view to action by the state convention which did not take place, and hence the organization is now committed to a list of nominees, practically self-appointed, and with few exceptions farmed down by the state convention. This leaves the Republican voters of Allegheny county free to pick and choose and present indications are that they intend to exercise that privilege with great freedom. As a party paper The Gazette would prefer to see things otherwise, but the policy of making candidates by machine appointment instead of party nomination has produced the present situation, and all that remains to be done is to make the best of it. As if the chances of machine candidates were not small enough already, Recorder Murphy has begun to attenuate them still further. If there is any other mistake which the bosses of the machine can make or any additional folly they can commit, they are pretty safe to find it and do it.

Immunity for Dorman.

The commutation of Walter B. Dorman's sentence of imprisonment for life is an entirely proper proceeding on the part of the pardon board. Dorman was a valuable witness for the commonwealth against the Biddles, and his testimony went far toward serving the ends of justice. His own guilt was made as manifest as that of the other culprits in the testimony he gave, and it goes without saying that he no less than they merited capital punishment. But he earned immunity by making a clean breast of everything, and it is therefore in accordance with the equities of criminal practice that he expiate his crime behind prison walls instead of on the scaffold. With this disposition of Dorman probably the last has been heard of the notorious Biddle case for some time to come.

Going Too Far.

The calling of a national convention of coal miners, to consider the advisability of a general strike in support of the men in the anthracite region, is a matter of serious concern to the public. President Mitchell has but done his duty to the organization of which he is the head by issuing the call for the meeting, for under the constitution this action is required when it is requested by five districts. It will not escape notice, however, that these five districts have little, if anything, to lose, for three are in the anthracite region where the strike is on, and the two others, Michigan and West Virginia, are also in disagreement with the mine owners. These five districts would tie up the entire coal industry of the nation merely for the purpose of winning local strikes.

It is hard to believe that the miners of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania will allow themselves to be dragged into a trouble which does not personally concern them, but there remains the danger of a stampede such as often occurs in national conventions, and in the event of such a course at the miners' meeting the consequences would be deplorable. General suspension of mining would tie up industrial establishments, large and small, seriously cripple, if not altogether stop railroad traffic, and cause trouble and discomfort in hundreds of thousands of homes. A great army of men now busily employed in the various lines of trade would be thrown idle, and without the slightest hope of remuneration for lost time.

Public sympathy has always been with the coal miners when their demands were reasonable and their cause just, but that sympathy will be alienated should a general strike be precipitated. The miners cannot afford to lose the moral support of the public, and they should act calmly and wisely at this convention, remembering that a general strike would be a calamity of national proportions.

Looking to the Future.

In disposing of a portion of its property by lease, the First Presbyterian church has made an excellent business arrangement and has done even better in making provision for the continued active prosecution of Gospel work where it will do the most good. The lump sum of $150,000 which the church will obtain will put it in good financial position to make necessary alterations and improvements, and the annual rental of $30,000 that it is proposed to devote to the work of evangelization will go a long way toward extending the humanizing influences of religion pure and undefiled in a section of the city from which such influences are being in no small measure withdrawn owing to the expansion of the residence section of the city eastward. The work the First Presbyterian church will now be able to do will help to fill the gap that has been created by so many removals of churches. The few churches that will be left in the downtown section of Pittsburgh will need resources independent of the contributions of their congregations to do their full work, and it is pleasant to see that one of them will be placed in so excellent a position by the clear-headed manner in which its resources have been managed. It is also a matter for congratulation that this mother of Presbyterianism in Pittsburgh will remain as a rallying point for Presbyterians in this region and that it is to be fitted so admirably to this purpose.

Crowninshield Vs. Dayton.

Admiral Crowninshield, who has been sometimes stigmatized as a desk admiral, and whose appointment to command of the European squadron was greeted with unsparing criticism by a considerable section of the American press, will probably win praise from his late critics for his vigorous official defense of the naval officers who not long ago were so despitefully used by the authorities of Venice, which usage was sustained in all its parts by the finding of the court of inquiry appointed by Capt. Dayton, commander of the ship to which the officers are attached. Admiral Crowninshield has turned the tables by pronouncing the evidence before Capt. Dayton's court of inquiry an insufficient basis for the findings. Going further he roundly condemns Capt. Dayton for not standing by his men to see that justice was done them. As Admiral Crowninshield reads the facts from the evidence, the American officers were virtually deserted in their hour of trial by their commander, who assumed their guilt, and morally, if not actively, co-operated with the authorities of the Italian city for the humiliation of his subordinates, whom he was bound to protect with all the lawful means he could command. If Admiral Crowninshield can find so much in the evidence on which Capt. Dayton's court of inquiry censured the officers and recommended some of them for court-martial, it is the duty of the proper authorities to order a new court of inquiry, and this time with Dayton for its subject. Crowninshield may be a desk admiral, but his desk services apparently has done no injury to his backbone. Doubtless the state department will be impelled by the admiral's comments to inquire into the conduct of Consul Johnson.

Palma's Reply to Bryan.

President Palma takes William Jennings Bryan too seriously. The Nebraska man, who was detailed to report the first presidential inauguration in Cuba for a New York publication, expressed the opinion that a revolutionary spirit exists in the island which is likely to bring on civil war. This opinion seems to annoy Senor Palma, although there is no evidence that thoughtful persons in the United States attach any importance to it. The Cuban president has taken the trouble to cable to Collier's Weekly, the periodical which printed Mr. Bryan's views, expressing surprise that its correspondent should have detected signs of unrest which no one else in Cuba has been able to distinguish. Senor Palma declares that he has received no intimation of disturbances or of anything except the utmost harmony among all elements. He adds:

> I believe the Americans will give us the relief necessary to our prosperity. I thank you for this opportunity to say that I do not believe Cuba will ever have civil war. Our people simply want peace and work enough to obtain means to live.

Except for the opportunity afforded to President Palma to put in a plea for reciprocity, there was not the slightest reason for him to notice the inglorious predictions of Mr. Bryan. That person is addicted to the habit of putting out false predictions.

Overreaching Themselves.

The rapacity of the London hotelkeepers and the greed of the speculators who control the reviewing stands along the route of the coronation parade next week are in danger of making the looked-for spectacle an exceedingly tame affair for the reason that people, rather than pay the exorbitant prices demanded, will stay away. So serious has become the outlook for a genuine frost of the noble pageant by the indignant public who refuse to submit to the exorbitant charges levied by the privilege holders along the route of the parade that the London newspapers have taken up the subject and are urging that some legal means be devised to regulate prices for the populace upon something like a fair basis. This is not a new or unlooked-for condition of affairs, and has found its counterpart on a smaller scale in nearly every national or international gathering of note within recent years. Perhaps it would be good policy for the authorities to keep their hands off and let these price gourmands receive a hoisting on their own petard.

If the populace is kept away in large numbers by the high prices for hotel accommodations and reviewing-stand privileges the men who have invested large sums in expectation of a crowd will lose their money and the people will be avenged.

But there is more at stake than punishing the greedy price setters. The dignity and success of the greatest public spectacle known to the British public for generations, not excepting the queen's jubilee exercises, is in danger of being made to look ridiculous from a popular standpoint by the prevailing rapacity of the people who control the privileges along the route. This fact will doubtless lead to official interference and a regulation of prices upon a more liberal basis, at least so far as the British public is concerned. Foreigners, of course, who will attend the coronation expect to be fleeced and have good-naturedly prepared for it.

Charles E. Clark, the gallant commander of the battleship Oregon in the time of the nation's need, is now a rear admiral of the United States navy, thanks to the initiative of President Roosevelt and the senate's confirmation. Never has there been a more popular promotion in this country, for from one end to the other there has been complete unanimity that the honor was deserved. From the day that Capt. Clark started on his memorable voyage he has been a hero in the eyes of the nation, and there has been general regret that substantial recognition of his services was so long delayed. It is gratifying to the people of the entire country that he has at last been promoted to the position so thoroughly deserved and so splendidly won, and the action of President Roosevelt and the senate will be heartily and unanimously applauded.

It will be pleasing news to the business men of Pittsburgh to hear that Postmaster Holliday has been promised another substantial addition to his working force by the postoffice department at Washington. This latest increase in the local force is noteworthy for the fact that it includes 26 new carriers, insuring a still greater efficiency in the delivery of mail. Since the agitation of the subject of the inadequate working force in the local postoffice there have been gratifying improvements made and this last increase indicates that the department is determined to bring the Pittsburgh service up to a high standard of excellence.

The assurance of the chairman of the amusement committee of the Fourth of July celebration that an almost endless variety of amusements has been provided for patriotic Pittsburghers on the Fourth will bring joy to the hearts of young America and will also indicate to the older citizen that the various committees are bent on making the nation's birthday a red-letter event in the city's history.

Our friend and fellow citizen, George Guthrie, will wonder how the community can get along without him after listening to Charles A. Fagan presenting him for governor. It will be good [illegible] for an obituary.

All his loyal subjects ask of King Edward is that he live long enough to pull off his coronation in proper form. After that he may consult his own convenience.

Mr. Bryan seems to be hesitating as to whether to drop free silver or run the risk of being finally dropped himself.

New York has another murder mystery on hand and is correspondingly happy.

Did your vaccination take?

A Question Raised.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—I note from this morning's paper that Charles Fenley, a policeman, set to watch quarantined houses, has been taken with smallpox. Sanitary precaution, like charity, ought to begin at home. If this man was not vaccinated, was it not criminal negligence on the part of the health authorities to expose him to the contagion? If he was vaccinated, what was the good of the vaccination? Finally, why do not the health authorities, in announcing new smallpox cases, state whether or not the patient had been vaccinated? Are they afraid the people will see through this scientific fraud if the results are made known?

Danger in Department Store Elevators

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 18.

New Yorkers are awakening to the fact that elevator accidents in this city have been alarmingly frequent of late. Most of them have been in factories, where only employes have been injured, so that the public has taken only a passing interest in them. But today an elevator dropped three stories in a big department store and 18 shoppers were injured badly enough to be taken to hospitals in ambulances. The great stores in this city are visited by many thousands of people daily and in some of them are more than a thousand customers at any one time in shopping hours. The crowds are hustled in and out of elevators, along narrow aisles, through doorways and up and down flights of stairs perpetually. The motto is "keep moving," as a slight relief from the everlasting "step lively" of the car conductors outside. There is no time to examine the elevator to judge whether it is safe. Loads of passengers are put aboard for every trip and usually there is no consideration as to the tensile strength of the cable or as to the possibility of something giving way. Something did give way this afternoon and the immediate result was a panic. There are elevator inspectors in New York, and most elevators have an official certificate hanging in the car testifying that the elevator was inspected at a certain date. Yet, as shown today, the breaking down of a store elevator, to which thousands of women and children entrust their lives daily, is not impossible. There will be an investigation in this case, of course. No doubt there will be a lot of testimony as to the why and wherefore of the accident, and plenty of asseverations that the elevator was considered "safe." The fact remains that it fell and that some of the passengers are very seriously injured. The mishap occurred at about the busiest hour of the day, between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It is beyond doubt that every store elevator in the city will be subject to a rigid inspection forthwith.

Still Sweet, Despite the Black.

The sweet girl graduate is sweet, no matter what she wears. But it was something of a shock to those that attended the commencement exercises of the Normal college in Carnegie hall last night when they saw that the graduates were all—or nearly all—in sober black gowns and mortar-boards, instead of white chiffon and delicately-tinted ribbons to which we have been accustomed for many years. The girls look well in the gowns and university hats, of course. Otherwise not a girl of them would have worn them. But the effect was unwontedly sombre when the 300 odd graduates assembled on the big platform, and it was seen that except at rare intervals of white lace and blue ribbons everyone wore the academic dress of the college. The young women all expect to be school teachers in New York state and it must be said that they are as likely-looking a lot as any normal school will turn out anywhere this month.

Excuses for Seeing the Races.

New York continues to empty itself into the race tracks every afternoon. There is not much temptation for the man of leisure to remain in the city on these beautiful June days. There is a great deal of excitement at Sheepshead Bay, whether one bets on the races or not, and with it all there is the ocean breeze, which blows fresh across the field and percolates to every corner of the grandstand and betting ring. The double pleasure of visiting the seashore and witnessing contests between thoroughbreds is too strong an inducement to men who have been busy in offices all the morning to be resisted. So Wall street is well represented at Sheepshead, and as for the theatrical contingent—why, it goes down to the races en masse, horse, foot and artillery.

Find Anthracite When Pushed.

Hard coal is in use on the Sixth avenue "L" today. The company began loading up with it at midnight, and has burned it all day, to the great satisfaction of people living along the line, who have been annoyed by the black smoke for the past week or two. On the Ninth avenue branch of the road soft coal is still used. This part of the system does not run so many trains as on the Sixth avenue portion, so the annoyance is not so great. Another thing, which may or may not have any bearing on the matter, is that the people who live along the Ninth avenue line are not quite so high in the social scale, as a rule, as those on the Sixth avenue route. Still, it is understood that soft coal will be abolished altogether from the "L" system within a day or two. While the elevated railroad has been the worst offender in this smoke nuisance, there is little hope of Father Knickerbocker showing an entirely clean face while the ferryboats and other harbor craft continue to use soft coal, as they are doing at present. While the coal famine lasts the through trains to Fifty-eighth street on the Sixth avenue line will be discontinued, and a shuttle train will give to passengers the best service possible. Such was the official announcement made today from the office of the company. It followed fast upon the arraignment of officers of the road in the criminal courts, and the declaration of merchants that the soft coal was injuring business on Sixth avenue and if persisted in would result in heavy suits for damages.

New Train's First Victim.

The Twentieth Century Limited, which arrived this morning over the New York Central railroad after a 20-hour run from Chicago, killed an unknown man near Albany, the first victim of this fastest train service in the world.

Picnic on Historic Ground.

There was a revolutionary battle on Washington Heights more than 100 years ago. In other ways this particular part of upper Manhattan has patriotic interest. For this reason Fort Washington point, on the heights, was selected by the United States Daughters of 1812, Empire state society, as a picnic ground today. The Daughters celebrated the anniversary of the second declaration of war with Great Britain by giving an outing there this afternoon.

Powderly in Black Diamonds.

Terence V. Powderly—our own Terence—is interested in a new coal corporation. Powderly used to be a Pittsburgher, and is generally regarded as being a son of Father Pitt to this day, in spite of the fact that he is claimed by Scranton, Washington, New York and other villages in the United States. As head of the Knights of Labor for many years he was known everywhere, but much of his work was done in Western Pennsylvania. Papers were filed in Trenton today for the incorporation of the Black Diamond Anthracite Coal company. $1,000,000 capital. Powderly is one of the incorporators. It is said that the company's property is in the neighborhood of Pottsville and that the object is to put anthracite coal on the market in competition with that of the railroads now involved in the anthracite coal mining strike.

His Whispers Still Powerful.

"Whispering Larry" Delmour continues to be a power in Tammany Hall, even though he is not even a district leader. He is always to be found at certain hours of the day leaning against the park railings behind city hall, taking note of all that goes on around him, and holding mysterious conversations in an undertone with people that come to him evidently of set purpose. "Whispering Larry" is one of the Tammany institutions of the city. In spite of all this, the last suggestion of his intended fight for the leadership of the Tammany organization in the Twenty-ninth assembly district against John F. Carroll has disappeared. The headquarters started in his interest at Eighty-second street and Lexington avenue has been closed.

Chance to Start a Zoo.

There will be a chance to stock a little farm at a reasonable price next week, when the surplus sheep and wool of the Central park flock and surplus animals of the zoological collection will be sold by auction at the sheep fold in the park. The list includes 4 Dorset ewes, 11 Dorset ram lambs, 3 buck elks, 3 doe elks, 7 fallow does, 1 fallow buck, 1 zebu bull, 1 zebu cow, 6 Brazilian ewes, 3 Brazilian rams and 1,142 pounds of wool. The park board has also advertised for bids for the construction of various houses and inclosures in the Bronx zoo for various breeds of animals and birds. These include the erection of an antelope house, an ostrich house and four inclosures for bears. The bids will be opened at the arsenal.

"Willie Wildwave" a Benedict.

"Willie Wildwave" is married. He took for his bride today Miss Jennie McNulty at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Galligan in the presence of many members of the Catholic Benevolent legion, Knights of Columbus, and two or three clubs. "Willie Wildwave" is not unknown in Pittsburgh as the composer of several successful songs. His legal name is William W. Delaney, but he is better known by his marine designation everywhere.

Bandmaster Innes Bankrupt.

Frederick N. Innes, the bandmaster, seems to be in hard luck. His wife, Georgie E. Innes, obtained a decree of divorce from him yesterday, and today he filed a petition in bankruptcy. He admits liabilities of $16,628 50, with assets to the value of $200, consisting of wearing apparel, which includes 14 suits of clothes. He was yesterday ordered by court to pay his ex-wife $25 a week alimony, but it looks as if she might have some trouble in collecting the money.

The Busy Gotham Copper.

The entire police force of Greater New York in 1901 made 7,480 arrests for felonies, compared with 7,467 for 1900. Of these arrests 403 were on the charge of homicide. The total number of arrests for all offenses was 133,749, compared with 132,805 in 1900. Of these 107,629 were men and 26,120 women.

Hand Ping-Pong in Streets.

Here is another kind of ping-pong. Pavement ping-pong is coming into vogue in the asphalt paved streets uptown, particularly on the west side of town. Girls and boys are the players, as a rule. The game can be seen almost any clear day in any asphalt-paved thoroughfare. Two play at a time, but the children have figured down the points of the game and have made their own methods of scoring and counting, and every afternoon after the schools are closed the children have a ping-pong tournament. In the street game of ping-pong no racquets are used, but the children use the palms of their hands instead. The ball is of rubber.

Funeral of Dean Hoffman.

Funeral services for the Very Rev. Eugene Augustus Hoffman, late dean of the General Theological seminary of the Protestant Episcopal church in this city, who died suddenly while on his way from Montreal on a special train, will be held on Friday afternoon at Trinity chapel, West Twenty-fifth street. Dr. Morgan Dix will officiate, and the entire faculty of the General Theological seminary, of which Dean Hoffman had been the head since 1879, will attend in a body, and in academic robes. The interment will be in Trinity cemetery at One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street and Amsterdam avenue.

delegates who will favor a national suspension. Reports received here from time to time from the west indicate that the sentiment for a general strike is not so great in that territory and that some conservative step would be more to the liking of the western miners.

Call Announced by Mitchell.

President Mitchell announced the call a few minutes before 11 o'clock at strike headquarters here and a few hours later at national headquarters at Indianapolis. National Secretary Wilson fixed the date of the meeting. The three anthracite districts petitioned for the convention four weeks ago last Friday, but by the laws of the organization, five districts must ask for such a convention before the national president can send out a call. He received the consent of the Michigan and West Virginia districts some time ago, but for some reason did not issue the call until today.

It is believed that he waited until some plan had been devised on which all the leaders could agree without provoking a contest in the convention.

The call was received throughout the entire hard coal belt with the greatest satisfaction. Everywhere in the region the long-looked-for move was indorsed by the strikers who believe that the bituminous men can materially assist them in forcing the mine owners into making some concessions.

SCRANTON, PA., June 18.—The fact that the joint miners' convention called by President Mitchell is set for a month hence is interpreted by the operators here to be nothing more than an effort to bluff the operators and keep up the strikers. One of the company's representatives said this evening:

"The mine workers' leaders made this call with no expectation that the soft coal men will join in their strike, but solely for the purpose of giving the strikers something to look forward to. But, come what may, the position of the operators cannot be changed. It would be suicide for the operators to make even the semblance of a concession, and you can rely upon it the operators will not commit suicide."

District President Nicholls left today for Philadelphia to confer with the national officers of the carpenters' brotherhood with a view of having the mine carpenters urged to obey the strike order.

CLEARFIELD, PA., June 18.—The sub-district presidents of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, met here today and issued an order directed to the local union checkweighman and miners of Northern and Central Pennsylvania which will reduce the output of bituminous coal in this region one-third. The order restricts the working days to four each week.

ROANOKE, VA., June 18.—A large band of marching miners reached Pocahontas last night and were met there by the sheriff of Tazewell county, Va., with a force of deputies, compelling the marchers to leave that county. They went back to the West Virginia side. No shots were fired and the miners retreated peacefully.

More coal was loaded yesterday than on any day since the strike began and all the operators report gains in the number of returning miners.

MANY MEASURES WERE FINALLY DISPOSED OF

Allegheny's Select Council in Session Yesterday Afternoon Transacted Much Miscellaneous Business.

Allegheny's select council held a meeting yesterday afternoon. Charles O. Deverts, who was elected a member from the Fifteenth ward to succeed the late Samuel Watson, was sworn in. The ordinance granting the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company a right of way from the works of the American Steel and Wire Company to a point 400 feet south of the Superior Run avenue viaduct, passed without opposition, but two other railroad ordinances were amended and laid over for printing.

Ordinances authorizing the department of law to settle cases arising from grading, paving and curbing of Linden avenue, which have been appealed to the superior court, for 50 per cent of the amounts assessed by the board of viewers, was laid over for one month, and an ordinance refunding 50 per cent of the assessments to the abutting property holders was introduced and referred.

City Solicitor Charles P. Lang stated that property holders could not legally be made pay one cent of the assessment because of a technicality in not filing A profile of the street when the liens were filed, and that the best thing the city could do was to accept the 50 per cent offered. The following measures passed finally:

Ordinances re-electing the Workmans Savings & Trust Company and the German National bank city depositories; fixing the licenses and penalties for slot machines; fixing the salaries of city employes as follows: Detectives of the bureau of police, $1,500 a year each; assistant clerk in treasurer's office, $1,200; physician in the bureau of health, $1,200; rodmen, general repairmen, dynamo tenders and wipers, $2 75 per day; linemen, $3 00, and lamp trimmers, $2 50; for the construction of piers, abutments and superstructure and the paving of a bridge on Shady avenue, over Woods Run avenue; authorizing the purchasing of supplies, etc., for the bureau of the public works department; the resurfacing of old walks and for the construction of new ones in the public parks; the construction of a lateral sewer on Termon avenue; the grading, paving and curbing of Termon, McIlvaine, McIntire and Morrison avenues; setting the curb and the laying of sidewalks on Imbrie street; the grading of Keefner alley; regrading and repaving of Taggart, Herman, Adfan and Killenbeck streets, and Gang avenue; establishing the grades of Kansas, Langtry, Zang, George and Hopkins alleys, Woodland terrace, Davis avenue, Fremont, Orleans, Viola, Nevada, Winthrop and Colvin streets; changing the grade of Greenwood street; relating a part of Massachusetts avenue and repaving an ordinance for the opening of Lenox alley.

Dispatchers in Convention.

At the train dispatchers' convention yesterday, at the Monongahela house, the system of telegraphic orders was discussed. The election of officers was placed in the hands of a nominating committee, which will report this evening, when the business of the convention will end.

Transfer of the Arsenal.

Lieut. Col. John A. Kress of the Allegheny arsenal has been notified by Maj. Gen. John R. Brooke, commanding the department of the east, that on July 2 the arsenal will be taken in charge by a detail of one officer and 20 men from Fort Porter, Buffalo.

A beautiful picture of Pope Leo XIII., in addition to an interesting cut-out booklet entitled "Jack, the Giant Killer," will be the supplements of next Sunday's Gazette.

AN OLD GRADUATE TO BE HONORED

The Degree of Doctor of Devinity to Be Conferred on the Rev. J. S. Robertson—Cannot Be Present.

The Western University of Pennsylvania will tonight honor one of its oldest living graduates, in the person of the Rev. John Stuart Robertson, a retired Presbyterian minister, now making his home in Dayton, O. Mr. Robertson is to receive the degree of doctor of divinity from his alma mater. He has been notified of this honor, and was much interested in coming here to receive it, but is too old to travel now, and will be represented by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Gilchrist, secretary of the board of home missions of the United Presbyterian church.

The faculty regrets much that Mr. Robertson cannot be present, but proposes to make the ceremony of conferring this degree just as personal and reminiscent as is possible in the absence of the one to be honored.

Dr. Gilchrist and Mr. Robertson are friends of many years. Mr. Robertson is now nearly four-score years old, and although not as active as in earlier years is said to be quite healthy. He was born in Pittsburgh, and graduated from the Western university in 1846.

He was originally a United Presbyterian, and for many years filled some of the best pulpits in that church, but later entered the Presbyterian church. He graduated from the Allegheny United Presbyterian seminary in 1850, and was licensed by the Monongahela Presbytery in the same year and ordained in 1852 by the United Presbyterian presbytery of Ohio. Later he was called to the Monroe (O.) church, of which he was pastor until 1866. A few years later he entered the Presbyterian church, and was called to Prairie City, O., in 1888, and accepted. This marked his entrance into the Presbyterian body of which he is now a member, though retired. He was pastor of the Prairie City church from 1868 until 1871. That year he was called to Fletcher, O., where he continued until 1876. In 1880 he was called to the Watterson (Ind.) church, where he had charge until his retirement, in 1884. He later moved to Dayton, O., which has been his home since. The commencement exercises will begin at 8 o'clock tonight.

HANNA EULOGIZED.

Tennessee Republicans in Convention Adopt Resolutions Praising Him.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 18.—The Ninth district Republican congressional convention at Humboldt yesterday adopted a resolution commendatory of Senator Hanna. The resolution follows:

"We, the Republicans of the Ninth district of Tennessee, shall always remember the noble and illustrious late departed president of the United States, and in remembering his gentleness of character and unequaled statesmanship and love of country, yet we do not, and will not, forget that great leader of leaders and Republican of Republicans, Hon. M. A. Hanna, and whenever and wherever the Republicans of this section can repay him and their country for his unparalleled and incalculable service to his country and party, we stand pledged and ready to do so."

PERSONALS

Henry Bernard Lubbe of Quincy, Ill., and Mrs. M. Mabelle Arnold of Springfield, Ill., widow of the late Hon. Stanley P. Arnold, and daughter of Dr. Henry Wohlgemuth, one of Springfield's oldest and most respected citizens, were married last night at the episcopal residence of St. Paul's cathedral, Grant street. The Rev. John G. Beane performed the ceremony. The only attendant was Mrs. William Wohlgemuth of Minneapolis, cousin of the groom and sister-in-law of the bride. After the ceremony the bridal party was entertained at dinner at the Hotel Henry by the groom.

The oath of office as judge of the Second district of Alaska territory was administered to Alfred S. Moore of Beaver, Pa., yesterday by United States Commissioner William T. Lindsay in the latter's office in the Federal building. Mr. Moore was appointed to the position on May 27 by President Roosevelt and will leave for Nome, Alaska, on July 1 in company with George V. Vorchsenios of Wisconsin, lately appointed clerk of the Second district court.

Capt. E. S. Wright, former warden of the Western penitentiary, accompanied by Mrs. Wright, sailed yesterday on the steamer Philadelphia for Southampton. Capt. Wright was born in England, and came to America with his parents when a little boy. He has not visited the mother country in 10 years. His stay abroad, which will include a trip through the continent, will be ended in time for a return trip in September.

Capt. Richard Coulter of Company I, Tenth infantry, went to his home in Greensburg last night after spending the day in the city. He came here to confer with Col. James E. Barnett and Adjt. Clarence Rhems in regard to the arrangements being made to bring the Tenth to Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July.

Librarian E. H. Anderson and Miss Gertrude Sackett, supervisor of home libraries at the Carnegie institute, are among those from Pittsburgh who are attending the annual conference of the Librarians' association, now in session at Magnolia, near Boston.

W. H. Maize, for 35 years wire chief for the Western Union Telegraph Company in this city, has resigned his position owing to ill health. Mr. Maize, during his long term as wire chief, made many friends, and before his departure his fellow workmen presented him with a handsome watch chain.

Attorney Thomas Ewing was a passenger to New York.

Judge Elliott Rodgers and wife went to Philadelphia last night.

Col. Willis J. Hulings of the Sixteenth Infantry is at the Monongahela house.

TRYING TO FIX UP A COMPROMISE

Dispute Over Werneberg, Sheehan & Company's Grant Boulevard Bill Being Heard by Citizens.

A compromise is being arranged by which the suit entered against the city by Werneberg, Sheehan & Co. is to be withdrawn. The sub-committee on Grant boulevard now has the matter in charge and devoted the entire afternoon yesterday to a consideration of the case and will continue the hearing on Friday.

The sub-committee is a part of the general improvement committee appointed last winter by Recorder J. O. Brown. Robert Pitcairn is chairman of the sub-committee and the other members are President John S. Lambie of select council, Senator William Flinn and E. M. O'Neill. Neither Mr. Flinn nor Mr. O'Neill were present yesterday.

The city was represented by City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan and Assistant City Solicitor A. M. Thompson. Werneberg, Sheehan & Co. were represented by Attorneys J. J. Miller and William B. Rodgers. Only the contractors' side of the case was heard yesterday. Friday the city's side will be argued. There is understood to be little difference between the contractors and the city so far as statements of questions of fact are concerned, the principal difference being a legal one.

Werneberg, Sheehan & Co. constructed the Grant boulevard. Their total bill on estimates was about $875,000. They then put in a bill for $440,000, but Mr. Wilson would not allow it. The matter has been dragging along for nearly two years. The contractors have been pushing the matter lately.

Director J. Guy McCandless said after the hearing yesterday: "The committee only has advisory power, but I wanted them to take the matter up, as that is what they are appointed for, and the matter ought to be settled."

The suit brought by Werneberg, Sheehan & Co. is to recover about $440,000 for extra work. The estimated cost of the boulevard was about $325,000, whereas it has already cost $1,200,000, and the claims of property holders have yet to be considered. Mr. Sheehan's claims for extras are based on orders through the department of public works, which caused delay and an advance in prices over those prevailing when the contract was let. Failure to get right of way, failure to provide means to move excavations and being kept out of money for two years and the consequent necessity to pay interest to banks on money borrowed.

FREE EXCURSION TO BUTLER

SATURDAY, JUNE 21st.

This busy, bustling city will double in population within the next 60 days. Every train out of Pittsburgh bears hundreds of mechanics and tradesmen, who are drawn to this prosperous town by the great industrial activity following the location of The Standard Steel Car Works, the greatest of its kind in the world, employing 5,000 men. In the very heart of this prosperous city is located the

CAVANAGH PLAN OF 252 LOTS

Beautifully adapted to business and residence purposes. Within a block of the great Main street of Butler. 5,000 skilled mechanics, clerks and managers will be looking for homes in Butler within the next sixty days. Today there is not a vacant house in Butler. In order to relieve the overcrowded condition of the city the great car company has already contracted for the erection of several hundred houses. Thousands will be required to meet the demand. The Greatest Opportunity Ever Offered Investors in Real Estate. These lots are not isolated or in the suburbs, but lie in the very heart of Butler, and the adjoining property is all built up. West Wayne Street forming part of the plot will be the main thoroughfare between the Works and the City and will shortly be traversed by the Butler Street Car Lines.

THIS IS NO FAKE MUSHROOM TOWN, ESTABLISHED IN THE STUBBLEFIELDS, SUCH AS HAS BEEN THE CASE HERETOFORE.

The plot is perfectly level and will require no grading. It is sewered and perfectly drained. The County Seat of Butler County. Recognized as the wealthiest City of its size in the Country. Six Banks and Trust Companies, one of which has deposits of nearly two millions of dollars.

Manufacturing Plants:

Standard Steel Car Co.,
Standard Plate Glass Co.,
Oil Well Supply Mfg. Co.,
Egan Boiler Works,
Evans & Templeton Foundry and Machine Co.,
Butler Engine Works,
Butler Silk Mill,
and numerous others.

Another large Forge and Iron Works will shortly be located at Butler.

Remarkably Choice Lots for Residence and Business will go in this great sale at $500.00 and up.

Grand Free Excursion will leave P. & W. Station, Allegheny, on Saturday, June 21st, 1902, at 9:30 A. M. Full particulars later.

Stores of all kinds are wanted in this booming city to supply the wants of the thousands of new people locating there.

If you never have purchased a lot before, now is your time. You will get double the price paid for it in less than sixty days.

The remarkable advance in Butler real estate is the best possible evidence as to the advisability of investors getting in and securing a lot in the CAVANAGH PLAN when it goes on the market on SATURDAY, JUNE 21st.

Do a little thinking on this proposition, then you will realize how a man with a small amount of money can secure and hold an investment which will eventually turn to thousands. You won't have to wait like you invariably would in the average new town, as this place is already a city, established years ago, with all modern and up-to-date improvements.

Main Street, Butler, ONE BLOCK FROM CAVANAGH PLAN. PLAN TWO BLOCKS FROM COURT HOUSE.

Here is the Greatest Real Estate Opportunity

That can ever occur. Investors who would like to own a piece of the choicest property there is in the city of Butler, make sure to be on hand on the opening day, SATURDAY, JUNE 21st.

The remarkable opening sale of the CAVANAGH PLAN OF LOTS at Butler would not be exciting the interest it is if such opportunities to make money occurred even occasionally during one's lifetime.

Real estate in other industrial communities has not and cannot show the ratio of increase in value that the CAVANAGH PLAN OF LOTS will, yet when you stop to consider it will not be wholly dependent upon one industry.

You will be surprised at the pace progress has set in this model city when you see one army of men after another and team after team at work carrying out the wonderful plans of the Standard Steel Car Works, the largest in the world, now in course of erection.

Think of it!—5,000 working men without homes! Such will be the condition of affairs at Butler unless thousands of houses are built at once. This is the greatest opportunity for investors and builders known in the TWENTIETH CENTURY.

Now is the time to purchase lots in the CAVANAGH PLAN. It is the early investor who makes the money. BE SURE TO BE ON HAND ON THE OPENING DAY, SATURDAY, JUNE 21st.

Just think of this! Think what it means for the investor who goes in and buys choice lots as level as a floor. The man who buys a number of lots will get rich. A man who buys only one lot will earn from $1,000 to $2,000 in a very short time. When you consider the amount of money being expended in this section within the next year building mammoth work shops and mills, you will realize why there is such a great reason for the ground floor prices at which this property is being sold.

When you go out and witness the facts with your own eyes you will not be long in taking advantage of this opportunity to make money.

When experienced investors get information that such a proposition is afloat they won't rest until they get to the property. Now is undoubtedly your time to make a TEN STRIKE. Come on day of sale, SATURDAY, JUNE 21st.

Terms: $100.00 DOWN Balance $5.00 PER WEEK

OR A LIBERAL DISCOUNT WILL BE GIVEN FOR CASH.

NO TAXES OR INTEREST UNTIL DEED IS DELIVERED. THE TITLE TO ALL LOTS SOLD ON THIS PLAN WILL BE GUARANTEED BY THE PUBLIC TRUST CO.

Railroad Fare will be paid to any one purchasing a lot, living at no greater distance than 100 miles from Butler.
Railroad Fare of any one attending this sale and purchasing a lot whether going on excursion or not will be paid.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilmington, Del., June 18.—Pittsburgh today defeated the Wilmington A. A. by a score of 7 to 3. The game was witnessed by one of the largest crowds that has ever been in a local ball park, the attendance being upward of 6,500, in spite of the fact that three excursions were out of the city today. Pittsburgh won because of poor playing by Wilmington. The visitors did not earn one of their runs, while the home team batted out all three that were marked up to its credit.

Winham, the new pitcher for Wilmington, was a puzzle to Pittsburgh, and he struck out nine of the visitors. Three times he made "Lefty" Davis fan and twice he stood Bransfield and Phillippe up at the plate. Pittsburgh got its first run after News had dropped a fly that Wagner knocked to him. The next was scored by Clarke, who got a base on balls, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Beaumont's double.

In the sixth inning Wilmington went up in the air and two errors, a wild pitch, a misjudgment and a wild throw by Deal gave the visitors three more runs. Leach, Phillippe and Davis scoring. In the ninth Winham tried to throw Clarke out at second, but hurled the ball out into center field and a single later by Bransfield scored Clarke and Beaumont.

Secretary Pulliam of Pittsburgh was much pleased with the reception and wants to play a return game. The Pittsburgh team left for home tonight and will reach Pittsburgh tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The score:

BROKE HIS COLLAR BONE.

Terry McGovern Met With Bad Accident Playing Ball.

NEW YORK, June 18.—"Terry" McGovern, the pugilist, while playing baseball at College Point, Long Island, today was knocked down in a collision with a base runner and his collar-bone was broken. The physician said he would be laid up for several weeks. McGovern is matched to fight "Young Corbett" in September for the featherweight championship.

WILL STOP THE FIGHT.

Young Corbett and Dave Sullivan Not Allowed to Meet in Denver.

DENVER, June 18.—The Denver fire and police board today issued instructions to the chief of police not to permit Young Corbett and Dave Sullivan to fight on Friday night. The contest probably will take place in Louisville or San Francisco at a later date.

BOWMAN WAS STRONG.

His Curves Were Too Much for the Monessen Batters.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 18.—(Special.)—Bowman, for the West Virginia university, was almost invincible today and the team easily defeated the Monessen Athletic club. Perkins pitched well for Monessen, but errors, both of omission and commission, enabled West Virginia to score all of its runs. For the first time this season West Virginia played an errorless game. The score:

Jenkins to Wrestle at New Castle.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—Tom Jenkins, heavyweight wrestling champion of the United States, will meet here next Monday evening at the opera house "Dan" Ormsby of Australia. The match will be for a side bet of $500 and the championship. Lancashire style, which is broader and more liberal regarding fouls than is the catch-as-catch-can style. Ormsby will have recently arrived here and will go on the mat at 190 pounds, while the champion will be five pounds heavier.

Altoona Beat Johnstown.

ALTOONA, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—Eighteen hundred people saw Altoona down their stern rivals from Johnstown to the score of 8 to 4 in the second straight game in a series of four at Columbia park here today. The home nine excelled with ease at bat and in the field. The score:

Was Not the High School Team.

The publication of yesterday relative to the alleged defeat of the Wilkinsburg High school team by the Pittsburgh College Reserves caused considerable indignation among members of Wilkinsburg High School players. The nine that played the Reserves was a pick-up aggregation and only one member of the High School team took part in the game. The Reserves asked for a game with the High School team last Saturday, but could not be accommodated at that time. Manager R. W. Russell, of the High School team, is ready at any time to arrange for a game with the Reserves, and letters may be addressed to him at 723 Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg. The Wilkinsburg High School team have played 15 games this season and have suffered only three defeats.

P. C. Third's Strong Game.

The Pittsburgh College third team closed its baseball season by defeating the St. Mary's team of Sharpsburg at Southern park yesterday afternoon by a score of 17 to 1. The battery work of McCaffrey and Connors was excellent and their support was good at all stages. Score:

DOUBLE VICTORY FOR YALE'S BLUE

OLD ELI'S SONS WON IMPROMPTU BOAT RACE AND A COCK FIGHT.

College Students Happy Over Day's Results Viewed as Lucky Omens—Yale Freshman Four Best Harvard by Three Lengths—Varsity Finishes Training.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GALES FERRY, CONN., June 18.—Yale and Harvard oarsmen got together twice today in events not strictly scheduled in their annual boating program. On the first occasion the freshmen crew of the two universities somehow got hold of two harmless roosters belonging to Gales Ferry farmers and set them at each other in a secluded grove near the Harvard freshman quarters. The youngsters made such a racket that the varsity oarsmen and coaches were attracted. The bout did not last long, as the rooster which wore the Yale blue succeeded in winding the Harvard representative and the bout was declared a victory for Yale.

The Yale rooster was grabbed by the freshman crew and taken back to the Yale training quarters where he will be kept as a mascot for the race next week. The Harvard rooster was left to find his way back to his owner's barnyard as best he could.

The second meeting occurred when "Pirate Blake," the Harvard freshman coach, took the Harvard freshman four up past the Yale quarters where the Yale freshmen four was rowing. The youngsters lined up together and Blake gave them the word to start through his megaphone. The Harvard lads had the lead for about 100 feet, but Yale soon overhauled them, and won by three lengths. No regular distance was rowed, but the crews struggled for about two-thirds of a mile. The Yale oarsmen predict corresponding victories next week as the result of the lucky omens.

The Yale freshmen rowed a half-mile on time this morning in 2 minutes and 40 seconds. The Yale 'varsity four and 'varsity eight did not row a stroke this morning, but worked out about three miles in time stretches this afternoon As recitations at Yale closed for the year today about 25 students from New Haven arrived here to visit the oarsmen.

Percy Cameron of Yale announced tonight that time rows were over at Yale till the big race, and that the remainder of the work would consist of light work directed at quick starting and putting on the finishing touches. He stated that there were no chances of changes in either of the two Yale 'varsity crews and Head Coach Hooker said that there would be no more changes in the freshman, barring accidents.

IDEAL ROWING WEATHER.

The Crews at Poughkeepsie Got in Some Fine Practice Work Yesterday.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18.—Ideal water conditions for crew practice prevailed early today. There was scarcely a breath of air and the river was as smooth as glass. Pennsylvania and Cornell were the first crews to appear. They rowed up the river close to the west shore. Wisconsin rested this morning.

Georgetown's crew rowed up the river three miles down stream again at the tide.

Egan was taken from the boat and Joseph Sinclair, who sat in the 'varsity boat last year, took his place at bow. Coach Dempsey says that Sinclair will probably retain the seat. Ellis Ward, the Pennsylvania coach, paid a great deal of attention to the makeup of his 'varsity four this forenoon. He tried two different combinations, Jackson, Shock, Pepper and Kellan first, and then Jackson, Shisler, Pepper and Kellan. He had both crews row over the two-mile course. He said that he was still undecided as to the make-up of the crew.

The Cornell crews took very light work. The 'varsity rowed four easy miles and the coach scarcely spoke to them. Courtney has definitely decided upon his 'varsity four. Beginning at bow they will be Toohill, Ballinger, Edmonston and Lyford. All but Lyford rowed in the same crew which defeated Pennsylvania and Columbia last year.

Two weekends sent both of the Syracuse crews out to practice starts in the morning. Despite the hot sun the boats had two stiff brushes.

Columbia boated her 'varsity eight and two 'varsity fours. Hanlan was not pleased with his first four today. The boat still has a tendency to hand between strokes, which is a serious fault in so light a crew.

TWO PRINCETON ATHLETES.

They Will Take Part in Fourth of July Sports.

Princeton will be represented in the athletic games at Schenley park on July 4 by James Leo Grimes of Knoxville and George Curtis of Washington, D. C., who sent in their entry blanks last night. It was known that the local athlete would take part in the president's meet, but the other entry was a surprise.

Curtis will be here for a week before the Fourth and will train with Grimes, whose guest he will be. Curtis, in the intercollegiate meet at Mott Haven, finished second in the high jump. That is the only event in which he will compete here. Grimes is entered in the broad jump and the hurdle events.

THE DERBY TEST NEARLY CAUSED JOCKEY'S DEATH

McChesney Fell and Winkfield, the Rider, Had Collar Bone Broken.

BELLE'S COMMONER WON

Is an Outsider in Betting for the Big Event on Saturday—Colt Ran a Marvelous Race—McChesney Out of the Derby.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 18.—J. B. Respess' Belles Commoner, an outsider in the betting in the American derby, which will be run here Saturday, won the derby trial special today at Harlem. The colt ran a marvelous race, covering the mile and an eighth in 1:53 2-5, and won in a gallop by three lengths. John A. Drake's Wyeth, in a desperate drive, beat out Lucien Appleby by a nose. Prowl, who was fourth, was beaten 10 lengths. Cruzados, second choice in the American derby, quit after he had run a mile.

The race came near causing the death of Jockey Winkfield. He had the mount on S. C. Hildreth's McChesney, who, coupled with Lucien Appleby, was held favorite at 1 to 2. At the half mile pole McChesney fell, throwing Winkfield against the rail. Winkfield's right leg was injured badly and his collar bone was broken.

First race, 4½ furlongs—Dick Welles, 108, Knight, 13 to 5, won; Pluck, 103, Coburn, 8 to 1, second; Americano, 99, Ransom, 7 to 2, third. Time, :53⅘. Alice Cary, Miramore, Mrs. Wiggs, Dundees Pet, Will Shelly, Tabellarius, Filly Deck, Sigmund and Effie S. also ran.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Bard Burns, 104, Frier, 9 to 1, won; L'Etrenne, 107, Winkfield, 18 to 5, second; Lady Idris, 98, McCue, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 2-5. Reina de Cuba, Carl Kahler, King Barleycorn, Master Mariner, Pat Morrissey, Cuban Girl, Tootsie Green also ran. Boomerack left at post.

The Derby Horses Trial.

Third race, the Derby trial special, 1½ miles—Belles Commoner, 112, Knight, 7 to 1, won; Wyeth, 112, Lyne, 12 to 1, second; Lucien Appleby, 112, Coburn, 7 to 10, third. Time, 1:53 2-5. Prowl, Glenwater, Cruzados also ran. McChesney and Appleby coupled as Hildreth's entry. McChesney fell.

Fourth race, 1¼ miles over five hurdles, handicap—Gorille, 131, P. Clay, 10 to 1, won; Dissenter, 136, J. Johnson, 9 to 5, second; Coley, 114, Raines, 8 to 1, third. Time, 2:29 3-5. David S., Farrell, Henry Gibbs, Dr. Bell also ran. Alessando and Foutainbleu fell at the first hurdle.

Nail City Fans Went Almost Wild Over Their Team's Victory.

COULDN'T BUNCH THE HITS

They Hammered Lucas' Delivery Hard Enough, but Could Not Produce Runs—Hulings' Homer Won the Game in the Seventh Inning.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wheeling, W. Va., June 18.—Wheeling outplayed St. Louis before a crowd that went wild over the defeat of the league team this afternoon. The visitors outbatted the home team, but failed to hit consecutively, and Donovan's men appeared to lose heart at critical moments. Two doubles, a single and a hit batsman gave Wheeling three in the second, and Huling's drive over the fence, with two on bases, won the game in the seventh. St. Louis had an excellent chance to tie or win in the ninth with two on bases and none out, but the batsmen gave Wheeling fielders easy chances. The score:

STRONG MOTOR RACE FOR MONDAY NIGHT

McCONNELL, THE BOSTON CRACK, TO GO AGAINST WILSON.

Local Boy's Opponent Has Been Showing Up Well in the East—Lester Is Now Familiar With Following Pace and Promises a Rattling Contest.

The management of the colosseum has arranged for a match for the meet on Monday night of next week which will prove of more than ordinary interest to the followers of the racing game in this city. Lester Wilson, the speedy local rider who this year broke into the ranks of the pace followers, will meet Charles McConnell of Boston, the Bay State champion, in a 30-mile motor-paced race. McConnell has been doing some great riding in the east and in the Bunker Hill day races yesterday at Boston made a fine showing. He has met all the crack racers, as well as some of the lesser lights in the cycle world and has several wins to his credit this season.

Wilson has been improving wonderfully in his work during the past two weeks. He has been training faithfully since his meeting with Hall on the opening night of the colosseum, when his defeat was due more to his lack of knowledge in the art of following the big machines than in the lack of speed, and he is now in the best condition possible. He says that on Monday night he will show his Pittsburgh friends some surprising results in the way of speed.

The men are very evenly matched and the race should prove one of the most exciting of the season as well as of special local interest. The meet for the week will be held on Monday night instead of Saturday. This change is in deference to the wishes of McConnell, who, after his hard race, this week and the long ride from Boston, wants a day or two at least on the colosseum to get into shape for his race with Wilson.

There will also be two amateur events on Monday night, a half-mile handicap and a two-thirds of a mile handicap. As the meet will not be held until Monday the entries for these events will not close until Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

Anshutz.

The Primrose Reserves will play the Idlewood Juniors next Saturday in Allegheny, and a warm game is promised, as on the last meeting at Idlewood the Chartiers Valley boys were victorious by the score of 5 to 4. Owing to the extended trip the Primrose boys will take in August it has been decided to cancel all games with out-of-town teams until after their return. This, however, does not apply to the two games with the Leetsdale Stars on July 4.

The Colonial club (formerly Company C) will play at Glassport next Saturday and several new races will appear in the line-up, as the team will be strengthened under the new name. Colonials are without games for the following dates: June 28, July 4 (two games), and July 26. Any out-of-town team wanting games for these dates address E. N. McGregor, 63 Miller street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO COAL WAS SHIPPED.

After Getting Three Tows Ready the Trips Were Abandoned.

After lightening 50 barges of coal for southern shipment the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company was yesterday compelled to abandon the idea of sending three light tows of coal to Cincinnati, the Ohio having failed to respond to a six-foot stage of water. The steamers B. D. Wood, J. C. Risher and Tornado had orders to go and were to be assisted out by other boats.

The boats were held above Davis island dam for some time, but at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the trips were abandoned, the Ohio failing to rise above 5.5 feet. The B. D. Wood was laid up at the dam and the towboats Tornado and Risher were ordered to proceed down the Ohio light and assist incoming towboats with empties. There are several boats which left Pittsburgh three weeks ago en route home on a light barge stage of water. If the steamers had succeeded in getting out yesterday, not more than 300,000 bushels of coal would have been shipped.

Packets Leaving Today.

Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 4 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown went to New York last night to take in the races.

Masters and pilots are notified that the light on Florence wharfboat has been re-established.

The steamer Elizabeth was due late last night from Morgantown and leaves for there this afternoon.

The annual election of officers will be held by members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, next Saturday.

The Bessie Smith will be found in port this morning. There is plenty of water for the Ben Hur on this end of the Ohio.

The towboat Tom Dodsworth is being equipped with an electric light plant. All of the coal combination towboats will soon have them.

The Ohio river, it is thought, did not rise sufficiently to float the towboat Oakland, although every effort will be made to get her off the bar at Sewickley.

Capt. Isaac B. Williams' sailboat Osceola is tied up at the Point. The captain, who is government inspector of steamboat hulls, takes an occasional spin on the river.

The towboat Fred Wilson, which has been lying at Lashell's for several weeks on account of low water, was unable to come into port yesterday from Sewickley.

The condition of the weather last night was favorable for rain and some of the mariners are of the opinion that the prospect for a good shipping stage this month is yet very bright.

John A. Bower of Columbus, O., who is known in river circles, has gone to San Francisco to raise the steamer Rio Janeiro, which sank there some time ago, drowning many persons.

In 1861 United States troops slept in the old Anchor line wharfboat at Parkersburg. The wharfboat has seen many years of service in this port and is said to be still in good condition.

Pilot George Woods has been at home for the past four months taking care of members of his family, who have been ill. His household has been afflicted with diphtheria, typhoid fever and pneumonia.

There are rumors in marine circles at Louisville to the effect that Capt. John L. Staib is anticipating entering steamboat circles again, and that he has a deal on for part of the stock in the Kentucky River Packet & Towboat Company.

The authorities have served notice on the coal combine that its wrecks in front of Rising Sun, including three barges of steel and the steamer Relief, must be removed at once. If this is not done the government will proceed to blow them out with dynamite.

A. D. Bare, the electrical engineer who placed the electric light plant on the sand dredgeboat Harriett, says the Harriet is one of the finest equipped towboats of the kind he ever saw. He says she will prove a wonder in the sand dredging business. The boat is being built for the Rodgers Sand Company.

Capt. George Hendrickson of Brownsville has been appointed master of the steamer Gertrude, which will ply between Pittsburgh and Morgantown for the Independent line. Capt. Hendrickson is an old time pilot who has been piloting on the Elizabeth and other Monongahela river packets. He is a son of Capt. Joseph Hendrickson. The Gertrude is receiving a new pilot house. She will be ready to run next week.

Patents on marine inventions were issued last week to R. R. Tatlock of Stirling, Scotland, for a self-inflating life preserver; James Merkel of Wellsville, O., a feathering paddle wheel; T. F. Walker of Birmingham, England, electrical ship's log apparatus; David Wilfe of Kenwood, La., a grappling hook; P. M. Maloney of Philadelphia, Pa., boat stopping and holding device; R. F. McIntyre of Lake Phalen, Minn., oar lock; K. C. McNeil of Chandlersville, Ill., oar; T. P. Pattie, of Irvington, N. J., apparatus for unloading scows.

FIVE MEN WERE CHARGED WITH A CRAFTON CRIME

Officer Westcott Alleged One Shot Him in an Attempt to Escape.

WOMAN FAINTED IN COURT

When Roland Harris Was Sentenced Two Years for Working a "Badger Game" His Wife Lillian Fell Over in His Arms.

Joseph Sullivan, Harry J. Kuntz, Martin Griffin, alias E. G. Quigley, alias John Allison, alias William Maxwell; Frank Kennedy, alias Clarence White, and Harry Kennedy, alias Harry McCord, were placed on trial in criminal court yesterday for entering the building of Daub & Pressler of Crafton, blowing open their safe and stealing $56. They were tried at the same time on a charge of felonious assault and battery, for the shooting of Officer Edward Westcott, who attempted to arrest one of the gang after the cracking of the safe. The cases went to the jury about 4 o'clock and when court adjourned the jury was still out.

Officers Edward Westcott and Elias Beake were in the vicinity of Daub & Pressler's store on April 2, when they heard an explosion. Starting toward the place they were fired on by Sullivan. Other men then fired at them, hitting Westcott. One member of the crowd approached Beake from behind and hit him on the head with a chisel, knocking him senseless.

Early that morning Sullivan was arrested by McKees Rocks officers. The other men were arrested later in Allegheny.

No Testimony Against Two.

Witnesses testified that they had seen Griffin acting suspiciously in the vicinity of the store on the day and evening of the robbery, and that he had made inquiries concerning certain localities in the borough.

No testimony was given against Frank and Harry Kennedy, nor were they identified as having been seen in the vicinity at the time of the robbery. It was testified that they were friends of Sullivan and Griffin.

When charging the jury the court said that there was no testimony against the Kennedys except that they were friends of Sullivan and Griffin. The jury was instructed to acquit Kuntz on the grounds that he was not in league with the men before or after the robbery.

When Roland Harris was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the workhouse, having pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny, his wife, Lillian Harris, who is indicted with him, fainted in her husband's arms.

They were charged with robbing Louis Good on Smithfield street on May 18 of a $40 diamond stud, a $200 gold watch and chain and $20 in money by working the "badger game." They were arrested and the missing jewelry recovered.

Wife Fainted in Court.

Harris said that they met Good in a downtown club room and spent some time drinking. He said he told Good and his wife he was going to a poker room and Good consented to stake him if he would divide the winnings. This was agreed upon, and he said Good gave him his watch and chain. He said Good and his wife then started out together, and when he returned to her she told him Good had given her the stud and $4. Both denied the theft.

A letter was produced from Chief of Police John J. Downey of Detroit, Mich., which stated that Harris, who is known there as Taylor, had been arrested in that city for grand larceny on April 23, 1894, but that sentence had been suspended. Other petty charges of larceny of bicycles were made against him, the letter said, but had been settled by his mother, with the exception of one charge on which he served six months in the house of correction. Harris admitted these charges were true.

When Mrs. Harris recovered consciousness, upon advice of her attorney she withdrew her plea of guilty. She will be called for trial later in the week.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Executions were overruled to a decree in the case of James McNeill against J. T. Lohr and others.

In the United States district court Levi E. Umstead, a contractor of Allegheny, filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $39,597 28 and assets, $50,875.

Charles H. McKee filed a bill in equity against Isaac F. Piersel and others to determine the ownership of $4,000 derived from the sale of lands in Westmoreland county.

John Wagner, executor of the estate of Adam Wagner, filed a bill in equity against Lewis Reich and Margaret Schwartz to have an alleged nuisance abated. The plaintiff claims that Reich is operating an ice cream plant in Mt. Oliver and has not provided a proper sewer.

An order was made in quarter sessions court dividing Fort Vue borough into Fort Vue and Glassport. This was the largest borough in the county from the point of acreage. Glassport has a population of 4,000. The entire borough will continue under the jurisdiction of the present officials until the special election on July 29.

Judge Brown refused a new trial in the case of Vincent Herron and his father, Hugh Herron, against the city of Pittsburgh. The plaintiffs were awarded damages for personal injuries received by young Herron, who, while on his way to school was burned by a fallen electric wire. The court holds that it is the duty of the city to have its lines properly inspected and for not so doing it becomes negligent.

SENATOR QUAY HAS WHIP HAND

BEVERIDGE HEADS MOVE AGAINST ADMISSION OF TERRITORIES.

Pennsylvanian Only Needs Ten Republican Votes to Win and He Has That Many in a Hole—Indorsed by Republican Convention.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 903 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.

Senator Quay's announced intention of forcing the senate to vote on the omnibus bill to admit Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma as states by moving to take the bill from the committee on territories has resulted in some lively wire pulling among the senators. Senator Beveridge of Indiana, chairman of the committee on territories, denounces the intended move of the Pennsylvania senator and is urging the senators not to resort to such a drastic move and to save the republican members of the committee from the humiliation that the adoption of such a motion would be.

Senator Quay is quietly noting the movements of the opponents to statehood, and is preparing for them a dose of medicine that they will not relish. In the first place, every Democratic senator is counted on to support the admission of the three territories. In addition to them Senator Quay will require less than 10 votes to have his motion adopted.

The last national Republican convention unanimously adopted a plank of the platform in favor of admitting the three territories into the union. Senator Fairbanks of Indiana was chairman of the committee that reported the plank and he and 17 other Republican senators who were delegates to the convention voted for the adoption of the plank and platform. Armed with these facts Senator Quay will submit them to the senate when he is recognized to make his motion. As stated previously, he needs about 10 Republican votes to pass the bill with the solid Democratic vote. He expects to secure the required number from the 18 who were delegates to the last national convention without calling upon the other Republican senators.

It is possible that the senate may adopt the motion to take the bill away from the committee and then having taken it up in the senate postpone its further consideration until next session. With a record vote in favor of their admission the friends of the territories may agree to this course.

SLASHER JACK INDICTED.

True Bills for Burglary Are Found Against the Vandal Who Cut Furniture and Curtains.

The grand jury convened yesterday for the day and adjourned to meet again on July 8. True bills were returned against Joseph Durbin, better known as "Jack the Slasher," charging him with burglary. Four counts were found against him. The charges are preferred by James Sheaffer of No. 1003 Bluff street, from whom it is alleged he stole a hat; by Jacob Schoenfeld of No. 703 Washington street, Allegheny, larceny of a scarf pin; by Charles Bewinger of No. 200 Meade street, larceny of a gold watch; and by Thomas Maxwell of No. 3331 Liverty avenue, larceny of a pocketbook.

Other bills were returned as follows: Larceny, Blair Barnes, Charles Woodworth; entering a building, etc., Michael Scarabiro et al., Calvin Dillard; selling liquor illegally, Charles Ritchey.

FOREIGN HEIRS SUE.

Jones & Laughlins Defendant in Six Suits Aggregating $120,000.

At the request of the Austro-Hungarian consul, Attorney Harry Alvan Hall has entered suits in the United States circuit court in behalf of the heirs of six foreigners who were killed by an explosion at the Eliza furnace of the Jones & Laughlins, limited, on December 19, 1901. The company is named as defendant and $120,000 damages are asked. The suits were entered in behalf of the following: Anna Gazdovics, Elizabeth Koutra, Anna Valyiga, Anna Kerekes and John Syabo and son.

It is charged that rails on the furnace, used to hold the wheelbarrows, were destroyed a year before the explosion and never replaced. The explosion occurred from the falling of a "hang" and negligence is charged in not having the railing in position, and not providing a safe place for the workmen. It is said that suits will also be entered in behalf of the relatives of the seven other men who were killed.

Oregon Nursery Co. Wants Damages for Alleged Breach of Contract.

Suit was entered in the United States circuit court by the Oregon Nursery Company, limited, of Salem, Ore., against Effie L. Kemp, trading as the Village Nurseries Company of Harrodsville, Pa. It is an action to recover $7,817 75 damages for an alleged breach of contract.

The plaintiff company alleges that the defendant contracted to furnish it 48,000 peach trees, free from disease or insect pests. It is claimed that 46,785 trees were shipped from Confluence, Pa., to Salem, and that the state inspector of Oregon pronounced them to be diseased and ordered them destroyed.

PENNSYLVANIA SENATORS DIVIDE ON CANAL BILL

Quay Favors Nicaragua and Penrose's Influence Is Thrown to Panama.

AN EXAMPLE OF THE VOTE

It Is Not a Party Matter, but Will Be a Badly Mixed Division—Both Sides Are Now Claiming Certain Victory.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 903 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.

On the eve of the taking of a vote on the canal bill in the senate, there are expressions of confidence by advocates of both the Nicaragua and the Panama routes. The Panama advocates have expressed confidence in the result for a long time, but the Nicaragua advocates have smiled at their claim and merely called attention to the tendency to the faint heart to whistle while passing by the graveyard.

When the vote has been taken it will be found that party lines have not been drawn. Early in the debate it was quite generally supposed that Senator Morgan would have an almost solid vote on the Democratic side behind him. This is now known not to be true. On the Republican side the same condition exists. That vote will be divided between Nicaragua and Panama. Some idea of the division may be found in the fact that Senator Quay is counted on for the Nicaragua project and Senator Penrose for the Panama route.

Senator Hanna and Mr. Kittredge are working energetically for the Spooner substitute, which authorizes the president to purchase the Panama canal property if a satisfactory title to it can be secured. The claims that a majority of the senate favors that proposition is rendered questionable by the fact that no one is prepared to say who will form that majority.

Mystery in the Figures.

There is much mystery, and everyone who undertakes to present figures to what the senate will do when the vote is taken tomorrow afternoon is forced to make three columns of names—those in favor of the Panama route, those in favor of Nicaragua, and a doubtful column, with ten or a dozen names in the latter. The doubtful column is the source of much uncertainty, but it is ominous of surprises. Some senators re deliberating very craftily over the subject.

While the motives of senators who have been led to favor the building of a canal at Panama are not questioned by those who will vote for the Hepburn bill, they declare that the influence of transcontinental railways there has always been opposed to the building of a canal is very properly from the point of view of the railroad magnates thrown to the least practicable plan. The passage of the Hepburn bill would insure the building of a canal beyond all question. That bill providing for a canal across Nicaragua will be voted on without any effort to amend it. The senate committee on interoceanic canal, recognizing that any amendment it might make to the Hepburn bill would be aimed at minor matters that can readily be provided for later, recommended the bill without any amendments. If the bill is passed by the senate it will then only require the necessary signatures of the chairman of the house, the president of the senate and the president of the United States to make it law. A vote for the Hepburn bill means the building of a canal without any doubt.

Spooner Mixes Things.

If the Spooner amendments should be adopted the whole question would be thrown into a state of uncertainty. The house, practically by a unanimous vote, has declared for the Nicaragua canal. The whole matter would be thrown into conference with a certainty of delay even if any agreement could be reached.

Tomorrow at 2 o'clock the voting on the amendments to the proceeding Nicaragua canal bill will begin and a final disposition of the matter is expected to be reached soon afterward.

The senate today devoted practically its entire session to consideration of the canal question. Extended speeches were delivered by Mr. Spooner of Wisconsin and Mr. Hanna of Ohio in advocacy of the adoption of the Panama route, and Mr. Pettus of Alabama advocated the selection of the Nicaragua route. Mr. Teller of Colorado briefly announced his support of the Panama project, while Mr. Jones of Arkansas indicated his leaning toward the same route.

Little that is new to the discussion was developed by any of the speakers.

ONE of the pretty home weddings of the week took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Clark Burchinal, in Baum street, Shadyside. The bride was Mrs. Burchinal's daughter, Miss Eleanor Philip Burchinal, and the bridegroom Eugene Campbell Vaillant, who recently come to this city from Lowell, Mass. The marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock the ceremony being performed by the Rev. William L. McEwen, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, East End. The bride was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Jeannette Abraham of New York city, and the best man was George C. Stephens of Cleveland, O. The bride, who is a very attractive girl, wore a handsome gown of white liberty silk over liberty satin. The skirt was trimmed with medallions of duchess lace and the bodice was almost covered with lace, the deep yoke and the short elbow sleeves being of the duchess lace. Her bridal veil of tulle was fastened with an aigrette plume and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and swansonia. The maid of honor wore a pretty gown of white embroidered silk muslin over pink taffeta silk and carried a large bouquet of pink roses.

The decorations of the house were entirely in green and white. Through the different apartments palms were grouped and light trailing vines added grace and beauty to the decorations. There were few flowers, save in the supper rooms and they were principally pink bridesmaid's roses. On the bride's table was a large centerpiece of pink roses and maiden hair ferns and dainty pink shades were over the lights.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaillant left last evening for a wedding trip of several week's. They will be back in Pittsburgh before July 17 when they will be at home in Baum street, they expecting to make their home with the bride's mother in Shadyside.

Graduates of the Ursuline Academy.

The Ursuline academy graduated a large class of girls yesterday. The commencement exercises were conducted at the academy in Wilkbiddle avenue, East End. An interesting program was prepared, consisting of music, a pantomime and tableaux, arranged from "Calista," and the distribution of diplomas and laureis by Bishop Phelan. Laurels and diplomas were given to the Misses Lillian Coughlin, Nellie Marie Kane, Katherine Bertrand Maloney and Clarisse Marie Rousseau, and medals as follows: Gold medal for completing scientific course, presented by the Right Rev. The class essays were devoted to the late Cardinal Newman as follows: "The Life of Cardinal Newman: a Sketch," Lillian Coughlin; "His Characteristics," Nellie Marie Kane; "His Conversion," Katherine Bertrand Maloney; "His Influence," Clarisse Marie Rousseau. The Rev Father Regis Canevin gave "A Newman Talk."

Cohen-Heymann.

A wedding with pretty appointments was celebrated at the Concordia club, Stockton avenue, Tuesday evening, Miss Florence Cohen of Fayette street and Philip Heymann of New York, being the contracting parties. The reception room, halls and library of the club were given over to festivities, each daintily and artistically decorated in palms, ferns and white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy. The bride's gown was of white with lace trimmings. She wore a veil caught in place by ostrich tips and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her honor maid, Miss Eva Heymann, a sister of the groom, wore a modish gown of white lace over pink and carried pink roses. After the ceremony a banquet was served. Later there was dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Heymann left for a bridal trip including Atlantic City, New York and the Catskills. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in Allegheny. Among out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. S. Heymann parents of the groom; Misses Eva and Bertha Heymann, sisters, and Mr. Julius Heymann, a brother, from New York; Mrs. Hanna Cohen, Tobias Cohen and Henry Cohen, Parkers Landing, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Flusstin and family, Kittanning, Pa., and L. Aaron, Connellsville, Pa.

Large at Home in the East End.

Mrs. Napoleon Collins Brace gave a large at home yesterday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 6, in honor of Miss Simpson of Boston, Mass., who is her guest. Mrs. Brace received at her home in North Negley avenue, and her house was filled with invited guests. Roses ran riot over the place, the decorations being unusually beautiful and artistic. The walls and the fireplace in the large halls were covered with climbing roses, which also wreathed the doorways. In the large drawing room, where the hostess and her guest of honor received alone, there was a profusion of pink roses. In the small yellow reception room the flowers were yellow roses, and in the dining room they were the regal American Beauties. White roses were used in the library.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Joseph E. Normecutt, Mrs. Clinton H. Gray, Mrs. Hugh W. McKee, Mrs. George L. Craig, Mrs. S. Woodward Cunningham, Mrs. E. E. Heck, Mrs. T. L. Hazzard, Mrs. Richard Floyd, Mrs. John W. Thompson, Mrs. Oscar F. Grant, Mrs. Percy L. Craig, Miss Lilia Butler, Miss Emma Mabon, Miss Minna Voigt, Miss Mary McCance, Miss Bess Brace and Miss Helen Thompson.

Mechling—Sullivan.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Butler, yesterday, in which Miss Margaret Mechling and William McClure Sullivan were united. The bride was given away by her father, and the attendants were Miss Jessie McCafferty of East Brady, maid of honor; Miss Sue Mechling, sister of the bride, and Miss Dess Vandergien of Butler, bridesmaids. The bridegroom was attended by Brown Nixon of Butler. The ushers were John Heck of Wilkinsburg and John Week of Butler. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was tendered the bridal couple at Breeze Place, the home of the Mechling family. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left on an extended wedding trip to eastern cities, after which they will reside in Butler. Among the out-of-town guests were Gen. Archibald Blakeley, Pittsburgh; C. C. Sullivan and wife, Beaver Falls; Plummer McCafferty and wife, East Brady; Miss Gertrude Heck, Wilkinsburg; Edward, James and Thomas Mechling, brothers of the bride, Pittsburgh.

Domestic Arts School Graduates.

The graduating exercises of the senior class of the training school of the Domestic Arts association will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the school in Forbes street and Ralkel, Oakland. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, of the Eighth Street synagogue, on "The Value of Home-making," and by C. B. Connelly, superintendent of the manual training school of Allegheny, whose subject will be "Training for Homes as a Profession." The Rev. Alfred W. Arundel, D. D., rector of Trinity church, will offer prayer. A discussion will be held on the "Value of the Training Given by the School of Domestic Arts," in which a number of those who have employed graduates of the school will take part. The class graduating this afternoon is the second this year, the first having completed the course in April. It is the purpose of the association to have a class ready to graduate every three months.

A Wedding of Mutes.

A fashionable but unique wedding took place at Washington, Pa., last night when Miss Laura Belle Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Barnes of East Beau street, was united in marriage to Charles Bailey of Weston, W. Va. Both contracting parties are mutes and the ceremony was performed in the Trinity Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock, by the Rev. A. W. Mann of Cleveland, also a mute, assisted by the Rev. C. M. Young, pastor of the church. About 200 guests were in attendance. The couple met in a mute school in West Virginia. They will reside in Weston.

Nevin—Cunningham Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Nevin and Cunningham families was held yesterday afternoon at Turkey Foot, on Sewickley heights. There were 45 present. Among them were, Mrs. E. J. Cunningham and family, E. J. Cunningham and family, John A. Roe and family, H. L. H. Blair and family, George Cochran and family, Misses Ida and Hanna Nevin, T. W. Nevin and family, John I. Nevin and family, of Pittsburgh; W. W. Cunningham and family and J. T. Nevin and family. Joseph Nevin was in charge of the affair.

Sperling—Springer.

Charles F. Sperling of Frease & Sperling, city engineers of Wilkinsburg, and connected with the Pittsburgh & Ohio Coal Company, was married last night to Miss Anna M. Springer, daughter of W. J. Springer, at the home of the bride's parents, at Mammoth, Pa. Miss Springer has, for a number of years, been a teacher in the Mt. Pleasant schools. Mr. and Mrs. Sperling will be at home to their friends, after their return from an eastern trip, at No. 1013 Coal street, Wilkinsburg, about July 1.

Lawn Fete in the East End.

A number of young girls in the East End conducted a pretty lawn fete yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Nathaniel Hart, in North Highland avenue. Though rain interfered somewhat, the entertainment was a success. It was given for the benefit of the Children's hospital, and among those who were active workers were Miss Elizabeth Hemphill, Miss Marie Hemphill, Miss Martha Kirker, Miss Georgia Baum, Miss Genevieve Boevele,, Miss Emma Fowler Weeks, Miss Dinger and Miss McDonald.

Dinner at the First Church.

The women of the Knoxville Presbyterian church yesterday served appetizing dinners in the first Presbyterian church parlors, Wood street. The severe windstorm on Friday Sunday almost totally destroyed the Knoxville Presbyterian church and the women were at a loss where to give the dinners for the benefit of the church building fund. Then came the offer of the First Presbyterian church people. Dinner will be served again today at the same place.

Wedding Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Letters yesterday issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillian May Letters, and Charles A. Heckman. The wedding took place on Tuesday, June 17. At home cards were enclosed with the announcement for days after August 1, at the new home of Mr. Heckman and his bride, in Duncan avenue, Crafton.

Another Wedding Day.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. McElwain of Merton avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jessie A. McElwain, and Bertram J. Craig of Allegheny. The wedding will be a home affair and will take place on Saturday, June 28.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Gottlieb Eisenbeis and daughter sail on Saturday for an extended trip abroad. They will be absent until fall.

The Margaret Finch lodge No. 124, Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F., will have a boat excursion next Tuesday evening.

The Pacific Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will hold its annual lawn fete in Verner's lot, Penn and Pacific avenues, this evening and tomorrow.

Mrs. M. H. Cochran of Vandergrift, and Mrs. Frank T. Wray of Apollo are at the Hotel Rider, Cambridge Springs, with the members of the State Editorial association.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Oakland Baptist church will hold an ice cream and strawberry festival tomorrow evening on the church lawn, Atwood street and Bates, Oakland, the proceeds to be devoted to a new church building fund.

Miss Maria Murdoch of Chestnut street, Sewickley, entertained at bridge yesterday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Albert G. Lea of Philadelphia. Mrs. W. Osborne of Frederick, Md., and Mrs. Harry Bishop of Osborn. Four hand euchre was played, with 10 tables occupied. The prizes were won by Mrs. Samuel Cole, Miss Anna Stewart and Mrs. Samuel Whann.

Miss Louise Smith of Bank street, Sewickley, was hostess yesterday afternoon at a card party in honor of the Misses Welty of New York, who have been visiting her for two weeks. The prizes were won as follows: First point prize, Miss Eleanor Drew; second point prize, Mrs. William Darsie of East End; third point prize, Miss Minnie Anderson; consolation prize, George P. Rose.

The Allegheny Fresh Air Home at Glenfield was opened Tuesday, a large party of women and children going down from the city. The secretary will be at No. 610 Arch street, Allegheny, on Wednesdays from 2:30 o'clock until 5, to enroll the names of those who desire to go to the Home. This treasurer, Miss Emma Forsyth, No. 1101 Western avenue, Allegheny, will receive any contributions to this work.

The nuptials of Miss Sarah Gertrude Hurst, daughter of Thomas Hurst of Irwin, and Felix S. Hogenmiller, Jr., of Jeannette, were solemnized with high mass in the Sacred Heart church, Jeannette, yesterday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father P. Beno, rector of the parish. Miss Helen Freund of Pittsburgh, a niece of the groom, acted as maid of honor, and Miss Laura Hogenmiller of Pittsburgh was the bridesmaid. Frank Hogenmiller of Jeannette, a nephew of the groom, was best man, and Lawrence Hogenmiller of Pittsburgh acted as usher.

A very pretty wedding took place at Clarion yesterday at the home of Archibald Githlian, when his daughter, Miss Almeda, was united in marriage to John G. Price of Braddock. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Harriett, as maid of honor, with Miss Ida Phipps of Elyria, O., and Miss Josephine McCormick of Pittsburgh as bridesmaids. Little Florence Emery and Frances Brown, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. The groom's attendants were C. H. Kelley of Braddock, groomsman; Edward K. Allen of Allegheny, and Charles Haskel of DuBois, ushers. The newly wedded pair will make their home in Braddock.

High Beef and High Coal.

With the prices of beef growing higher and coal also advancing in price, as a result of the anthracite miners' strike, it is especially interesting to note a recent test between coal and natural gas for cooking. A 16-pound roast, cooked in a coal range, required two hours and 30 minutes. The loss was five pounds. In a gas range the time required was one hour and 10 minutes and the loss in weight only three pounds. The saving in weight alone pays for a day's gas. The Philadelphia Company is now making connections and setting meters five of cost to non-consumers of gas. Ask at 610 Wood street.

TOO FEW FACTS IN PESSIMISTIC STEEL TALK

U. S. Steel People Amused at Theoretical Discussion of Stock Conversion.

SOUTHERN PIG IRON HIGH

No Attempt Is Made to Hold to Association Prices—Contractors Behind a New Pueblo Plant—Big Rival of Diamond Match Company.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 18.—A representative of the United States Steel Corporation commented as follows today on the possible action of the courts in connection with the bond conversion of the combine:

"Some of the statements recently made are amusing in the extreme. The same people who were criticising us for converting $200,000,000 of our stock into bonds are now talking about the heavy loss to the steel corporation in the event of an unfavorable decision by the higher courts, and are trying to influence lower prices for the steel stocks. If the bond conversion plan fails to go through, we will naturally be compelled to continue dividends of 7 per cent on stock that would otherwise be converted into bonds which would necessitate disbursements of $14,000,000 a year or $4,000,000 more than on $200,000,000 of bonds, paying interest at the rate of 5 per cent. Should the bond issue go through as originally proposed, there will be a saving of $1,500,000 in disbursements, and besides we will have grafts the $50,000,000 for additions, extensions, etc. In the event of our being compelled to put out only a bond issue of $50,000,000, there will be an increase in fixed charges of $2,500,0000. However, this outlay will be warranted, as we will be able to increase our earnings by $12,000,000 a year through the additions, etc., proposed. These pessimistic arguments contain too much theory, and too few facts."

Waiting Policy in South.

Southern pig iron producers are in a waiting mood. They have decided to postpone announcing a policy as to prices for 1903 until it is possible to get a more definite idea of the business that next year is likely to bring forth. A representative of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company said today that no new business is being taken anywhere in the south for 1903 delivery, but that a number of furnaces, having taken more business for 1902 than they can possibly get through with, will be compelled to carry a considerable tonnage over into 1903. It is foregone that the southern schedule for 1903 will be higher than the association's minimum prices. The pool's minimum now is $12 for No. 2 foundry "Birmingham," which was the price fixed several months ago. The southern pig iron association, like the steel-plate pool and one or two similar institutions, has lost control of the price situation and no longer assumes to exercise its authority. For example, although the southern association's minimum is $12 a ton, No. 2 foundry is now selling above $17 "Birmingham." The amount of this year's possible production of southern iron remaining unsold is insignificant. Southern furnaces, having been free of labor troubles and other embarrassments that have affected northern furnaces, will be able this year to bring their total production up to the extreme capacity. Present indications are that as soon as southern furnaces open their books for 1903, business tonnage will be forthcoming in large volume.

Pig Iron Famine Threatens.

Nothing has been learned definitely as to when the United States Steel Corporation will place its contemplated order for 100,000 tons of Bessemer pig iron to be delivered in the second quarter of 1903. It is believed, however, that this business will soon be closed. It is now believed that the combine will be able to get this iron at not much more than $17 a ton. A prominent pig iron manufacturer said today that the scarcity of this product in certain sections threatened to amount almost to a famine.

It was learned that the contractors are behind time in the construction of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company's new plant at Pueblo, and it is feared now that productive operations cannot be begun before late in the autumn, and that all departments cannot be got to working before next spring. Inside interests report that the company's business is perfectly satisfactory, and that it is a question not of getting prices for its product, but of making deliveries as fast as the consumers desire. Its plants appear to be equally as crowded as those of the east, and buyers are willing to pay almost any price if only material can be delivered promptly. The company is still selling pig iron on a small scale. When the new plant at Pueblo is completed the company will require all of its raw material in its own finishing mills. The second of the new furnaces will be blown in September and the third early in 1903. These furnaces have a capacity of about 6,000 tons a day each.

Rivals Diamond Match Company.

It is expected that the organization of the Consolidated Match Company, which was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey last week with a capital stock of $10,000,000, will be completed some time next week. It is the purpose of the new company to organize a chain of branch companies extending from New York to San Francisco. It is also said that the people interested are well supplied with funds, and that the company will be the most formidable rival of the Diamond Match Company. It has been denied that Edwin Gould is interested in the enterprise. He still holds a substantial interest in the Diamond Match Company.

Official denial was today given to the report that negotiations are now under way between the financial head of the recently reorganized Standard Milling Company and the Washburn-Crosby and the Pillsbury Milling companies of Minneapolis for the sale of the two last named concerns to the combine. Brayton Ives of the Standard company, when his attention was called to the rumor, said:

"Negotiations for the purchase of the Washburn-Crosby and Pillsbury Milling companies have never been entered into. There are absolutely no prospects of these companies being taken over by the combine."

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Late advices from the Black Hills, S. D., state that mining is flourishing more this season than ever before. In the Carbonate district north of Deadwood, a great deal of work is under way with prospects of fine results. The shaft of the Spanish R mine is now down 600 feet, and several thousand feet of laterals have been run, disclosing veins of rich lead ore and one large vein of low grade gold ore. A 1,000-foot tunnel has been started on the Welcome claim around which several large veins of good ore at a depth of 750 feet. Eighteen samples of rock from the Ispen vein, recently bought by the Grantz Mining Company, average $33 a ton gold, large reduction plant is to be erected at the mine. The Penobscot company is bonding a great deal of ground in the Garden City district, and work is being rushed on its 200-foot shaft.

A dispatch from Vancouver, B. C., states that Canadian Pacific interests have refused the offer of $1,000,000 by the United States Steel Corporation for the iron deposits in the vicinity of Kitchener on the Crows Nest line. The properties were bought for $80,000 six months ago. Active development will commence soon, and blast furnaces will be erected to utilize the product, it is stated.

Sinking has been resumed on the Malachite claim of the Aberdeen Copper Company at Lordsburg, N. M., and the 210-point will be reached in August. The bottom of the shaft of the Atlantic claim is showing good lead ore about 22 inches wide on the hanging wall.

The recent find in the Mohegan at Cripple Creek is reported to be opening up well, and the prospects of regular shipments from the mine are good.

Four new syndicates of eastern people have closed deals at Helena, Mont., by which as many different groups of properties in the country immediately tributary to the city will be developed on an extensive scale. One of these groups is the Dutch Gravel Gold.

Development work is opening up bigger and richer ore bodies in the C. O. D. and Golden Gem mines near Kingman, Ariz. On the 500-foot level of the Golden Gem the breast of the west drift is in an ore body five feet wide, 27 inches of which give an average value of 2½ ounces gold and 100 ounces silver.

The Deadwood, Lead, White Swan and Meteor district, Washington, has found the ledge which is as rich as indicated by the stringers that were being followed.

The company's agent in south Dakota has purchased the Barton mica mines in Piru and Lockwood creeks, near Bakersfield, Cal., has turned off two shipments of ore already, and has orders for more than it can fill. A force of 19 men is at work getting out the mineral. It is claimed that this mica is the best mined anywhere in the world.

Arrangements have been made for the development of the Grey Eagle in Nevada county, Cal. The company has a tunnel in 308 feet. At a distance of 146 feet it crosscuts the Blue Jay vein, but work was continued in order to reach the foot ground. The Grey Eagle vein was struck at a depth of 308 feet.

The Metal Market.

A heavy break in tin prices abroad, followed by a decline of 50 points at New York, and a sharp break in prices for copper at London by a decline of moderate proportions in quoted values here, were the features of the metal market today. The decline in tin at London was a matter of £2 on spot, which closed at £127, and £3 on futures, final price for which was £121 15s. At New York the closing price for spot was $28 75@29 25. In copper the decline at London on the spot was 7s 6d, spot down to £53 5s and futures to £53 10s. The local quotations at the close were as follows: Standard spot to August, $11 50@11 80; Lake Superior, $12 00@12 25; casting, $12 00@12 25; tin, $12 00@12 12½. Lead ruled steady, quiet and unchanged at 4¼c here. London was unchanged at £13 15s. Spelter was also unchanged both here and abroad, in New York at 4¾c and at London at £18 15s. Iron ruled fairly steady, with no change in the general list. Warrants were nominal. No. 1 foundry northern was quoted at $21 00@21 50; No. 2 foundry northern, $20 50@21 50; No. 2 foundry southern, soft, $20 50@21 50; No. 1 foundry southern, soft, $20 50@21 50. English markets were higher. Glasgow closed at 54s 7d and Middlesboro at 49s 9d.

STOCK BULLS MAKE A RECORD FOR THE MONTH

Chicago and News from the Miners Were Both Factors.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL LED

The Gain in This Stock During the Day Was Seven Points—Local Money Market Unchanged—Industrials Were Depressed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 18.—Leaders of the bull campaign in stocks made a more aggressive demonstration today than at any time since the campaign was inaugurated. The market broadened and there was a material increase in activity, the volume of dealings rising over that for any one day alone since some time before the first of the present month.

The strength in the market was pretty generally disseminated through the railroad list. There was little news to account for the rising tendency. The bulk of the operations was attributed to the western speculative party which was credited yesterday with having secured a corner on the July option in corn. The distress of the shorts in the corn market this morning seemed to give added effect to the demonstration in the stock market, but the sharp reaction later in corn did not alter the tone materially.

The news of the day was rather adverse to the rise in stocks. For instance, the calling of a national convention of coal miners in Indianapolis must be regarded as increasing the probabilities of a suspension of work among soft coal miners.

Reading Took a Tumble.

On what principle this news should induce active demand for Reading and also for the soft coal carriers is not very clear. In fact, realizing made itself effective in Reading and wiped out all its gain. The report of too copious rain in the southwest, except in a portion of Texas where it was needed, makes it equally difficult to account for the strength of the southwestern grangers. Nevertheless, Missouri Pacific was absorbed on an enormous scale.

The Gould railroads stocks generally were affected in sympathy, especially St. Louis Southwestern preferred, which rose 4¾. The improvement in the strategic position of the Gould system and the general belief in the coming formation of a central holding company are persisting influences on those stocks. The dealings in Union Pacific were also well up to the total of other leaders. The most influential movement in the market was that in Illinois Central, which was lifted an extreme 7 points, with considerable increasing urgency as the top level was approached. The stock reacted 2 points at the last.

Flurry in Illinois Central.

The fact that the board of directors were in session gave rise to a flood of rumors of an important announcement to be made affecting the value of the stock, but the market closed without definite knowledge of what the news was to be. The situation in the local money market was unchanged, but the tone of sterling and continental exchange continued very firm and there was no recovery in sterling at Paris, where also the private rate of discount advanced. Money was easier in London, but higher rates are looked for there before the end of the month, owing to semi-annual requirements. The depression of industrials today was in marked contrast to the strength of railroads.

The dribbling liquidation in the United States Steel stocks continued, and Sugar was weak on the belief that no action on Cuban reciprocity will be taken at this session of congress. The market closed active and rather easy.

The market for bonds was spotty and irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,510,000.

United States 2s, registered, and the old 4s advanced ¼, the 3s ½, and the 2s coupon ⅜ per cent on the last call.

WEALTH FROM CORNSTOCKS

A rare opportunity for investors in the

that will create enormous wealth.
NATIONAL FIBER & CELLULOSE CO. OF CHICAGO,

owns and controls machinery, patents and processes for manufacturing all grades of paper, felt and by-products from the wasted cornstalks. This waste in the corn belt of the U. S. amounted to over 58,000,000 tons in 1900.

CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS

can form an idea of the scope of this enterprise when they consider that the tonnage of Cornstalks to be turned into pulp for paper is inexhaustible and will supply the American paper manufacturers and stop them from going to Canada for pulp from timber. It is an enterprise that will immensely benefit farmers, laborers, freight carriers and investors.

Contracts for machinery for the first plants have been let with Torris Wold & Co., Chicago.

THE STOCK OF THE NATIONAL FIBER & CELLULOSE CO. Will as an investment surpass everything in the history of industrial money-makers. A limited amount of stock is offered at $1.50 per share, par value $10,00 fully paid and non-assessable. Buy Before the Advance on June 21 as the stock is selling rapidly, and the price will be with good prospects of advancing to par before the end of the year. Investors are invited to examine machinery, patents, processes, products, and everything pertaining to the business. No orders for less than 20 shares accepted. An investment of $30 (20 shares) now bids fair to be worth $300 before the end of this year.

SANFORD MAKEEVER, Fiscal Agent.

Little of Interest in Oil Developments.

Developments in the Lower Southwest are still of such a character that they are of little interest to any but those directly interested. On the east side of the new Gordon sand district, near Folsom, Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Jacob Price farm is producing 85 barrels a day and has not been drilled through the sand.

In the Pine Grove district the same company has completed and shot its No. 12 on the W. J. Criswell farm and will not have better than a 5-barrel pumper from the Gordon sand.

E. H. Jennings & Bros. have drilled their No. 32 on the L. S. Hoyt tract into the Gordon sand and have a show for a good producer.

In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has an agreeable surprise at its No. 5 on the D. Jones farm. This was one of the wells started for the fifth sand, but it got a good showing of oil in the Big Injun and was put to pumping from that level. It is producing 35 barrels a day.

In the Cameron end of the Gordon sand development in Marshall county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the V. F. Groby farm and has a show for a small pumper. In the same district the same company has completed its No. 3 on the Cochran farm and has the same kind of a showing.

Down in Wirt county, in the old Burning Springs district, Stuart & Young have drilled their No. 6 on the Bailey farm through the salt sand and have a duster.

In the same district N. S. Snyder has drilled his No. 15 on the Rathbone oil tract through the first Gordon sand at a depth of 765 feet, and has a 10-barrel pumper. In the same formation, at a depth of 335 feet, Roberts Bros. & Shrier have a show for a 20-barrel producer at their No. 2 on the same tract.

In the Bull Creek district, in Wood county, the Eastern Oil Company has completed No. 12 on the T. E. Hearnes farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. In the same district F. D. T. Bickley has completed his No. 3 on the Lucy Triplett farm and has a duster.

In the Hebron district, Pleasants county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the M. J. Fairfax farm through the Big Injun sand and found that formation barren.

Southeastern Ohio Work.

On the Ohio side, in the new Keener sand pool in Monroe county, the Unity Oil Company's No. 2 on the Harper farm is holding up at 210 barrels a day.

In the Rinards Mills district, in Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the John Cline farm is still producing 150 barrels a day, and No. 1 on the Enoch Cline farm 60 barrels a day.

In the Sand Hill district S. L. Angel has completed his No. 8 on the W. L. Miller farm and has a 5-barrel pumper.

The Maitch Oil Company has completed its test on the McMaitch farm and has a small pumper in the Cow Run farm.

Near Wilkins Station Longfellow Bros. have completed their No. 8 on the J. Roff farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

In the same district the Portage Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the William Price farm and since giving it a shot will have a 20-barrel producer.

In the shallow sand territory near Joy, Morgan county, the Midland Oil Company has completed its No. 154 on the E. Dale farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Bowerston district, Harrison county, S. G. Gillespie has completed his No. 18 on the E. A. McKean farm and has a 15-barrel pumper.

Local Developments.

In the Speechley sand district in Butler county the Devonian Oil Company has completed its test on the Dr. T. K. McKee farm and has a show for an 8 or 10-barrel pumper.

In the Callery district, in the same county, Massilon and Marshall Company have completed their No. 3 on the William McKinney farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the 1,000-foot sand. Massilon Development Company has drilled in its test on the W. S. Cashdollar farm and the hole has filled up 700 feet with fluid. It will make a small producer.

Window Glass Common Still the Leader in Local Speculation

WINDOW GLASS STILL ACTIVE AND HIGHER

Another Fractional Gain After a Day's Very Lively Trading.

BREWING COMMON HIGHER

Crucible Steel Stocks Were Quiet and the Common About Steady. Advances in Fire Proofing Shares and Union Switch.

The local stock market was fairly lively yesterday, with Window Glass and Brewing the star performers. Neither made any important gain, but each was well bought and closed strong. The whole market showed a better tone than for some time past, though there were fractional declines in several issues. Wall street was unequivocally bullish and the increasing strength and activity in the eastern market is undoubtedly having a very good effect here. Traders are now looking for a very brisk market here before the midsummer dullness sets in. Local conditions are almost without exception sound and many stocks are certainly cheap if last year's record prices be taken as a basis of comparison.

Window Glass was the leader in the trading nearly all day. The stock opened very strong at 64¾, an advance of ¼ over Tuesday's close, and gradually worked up to 64¾, the highest price of the present movement and almost level with the best on record. There was plenty of stock for sale at 64¾ and the demand, though very keen, was not enough to lift the price any further. After the first half hour the stock was quieter and the close for the day was the same as the opening. 64¾, showing a net gain of ¼. The preferred sold unchanged at 92½.

Brewing did not boom until late in the day. There had been only very small trading at 27½@27¾ until the last half hour, when a sudden demand sent the price up to 28, the top mark of the recent rise. The close was strong at 28 bid. The preferred sold up ⅛ to 45⅞ just at the close.

Coal stocks were much quieter. Pittsburgh Coal common was the leader and for a time looked as if it were going to work higher, but after an advance to 27⅝ in the early trading it fell back to 27, closing unchanged. The preferred and River Coal preferred also sold unchanged, while River Coal common lost ⅛. Fire Proofing stocks were slightly firmer. American Trust sold up $2 to 122, while United Realty Trust lost one point to 135.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges decreased over $557,000.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange, 7,146 shares and $11,000 bonds.

Window Glass scored another fractional gain on heavy trading.

Brewing common became very strong and active just before the close.

Pittsburgh Coal lost on early gain and closed unchanged.

Crucible Steel rather quiet and steady.

Union Switch rose one point on light trading.

Philadelphia common rallied to 49½ bid at the close, after selling at 48⅞.

United Realty Trust sold off one point to 135.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing and selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales; the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

It was rumored that Illinois Central directors would authorize an issue of new stock for improvements, to be allotted to the stockholders at par to the extent of 20 per cent of their holdings.

American Trust sold at 122, an advance of $2 over last week's price, but was later offered at 121½.

United Realty Trust sold at 135, the subscription price for the stock, and was later offered at 134½.

The London stock exchange will be closed June 26, 27 and 28, on the occasion of the coronation festivities.

Hall was the buyer of Real Estate Trust at the advance and, after taking 50 shares at 285, bid 287 for 100 shares more.

The advance in Illinois Central attracted good buying in Pennsylvania on the theory that it was worth quite as much as the former security.

Second Avenue Passenger Railway 5s of 1909 sold on the exchange yesterday for the first time since 1904, when they brought par and interest.

E. V. Hays, secretary and treasurer of the United Realty Trust Company, has been elected cashier of the new Union Savings bank, which will open in the Frick building on July 15. Mr. Hays will retire from the United Realty Trust Company on Friday. He was for 10 years discount clerk at the Farmers Deposit National bank.

MODERN HOTEL IN SEWICKLEY TO COST $250,000

Pittsburgh and Sewickley Capitalists Will Build Six-Story Hostelry.

WEST PENN REALTY DEALS

First Unitarian Church Property Sold for $60,000—New Flats for Woods Run and McKees Rocks—Saturday's Lot Sales.

Negotiations have been almost concluded for the purchase of a $60,000 site in Sewickley, on which it is proposed to build a six-story hotel at a cost of $250,000. The deal is being handled by Joseph P. Rankin & Co., who are taking subscriptions for the stock. The site was for years the home of the late Judge J. W. F. White and is now known as "Thorne terrace." It is situated on the upper side of the railroad, nearly opposite the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad station, and has three frontages, 434 feet in Bank street, 225 feet in Broad street, and 434 feet in Chestnut street.

The location is a very desirable one, the fine residences of Joseph W. Craig, Walter G. Muzzy, D. C. Herbst and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson fronting the lot in Broad street. Each of the three streets has a width of 50 feet or more and the grounds are thickly set with choice shrubbery, with a fine orchard in the rear.

Pittsburgh and Sewickley Owners.

The proposed hotel will be owned by a company of Pittsburgh and Sewickley business men. A capital stock of $250,000 is to be secured, and over $80,000 of this amount has already been pledged. It is the intention of the owners to build a thoroughly modern hotel, six stories high, with walls of pressed brick and stone. It will contain at least 150 rooms, besides commodious parlors, offices, ball rooms, reception rooms and porches, which will extend all around the house.

The need of such a hostelry in Sewickley is becoming more evident every month, judging from the number of wealthy persons from Pittsburgh and other places who wish to spend part of the year in that popular suburb. It was stated yesterday that the work of razing the residence on the lot and building the new hotel will be started not later than September 1, and that the building will be completed before the next summer season opens.

After More Ground.

Agents of the West Penn railroad are negotiating for the purchase of a row of about 20 houses and shops in the south side of East Ohio street, Allegheny, opposite the foot of Herrs Island. The buildings occupy a narrow ledge between the street and the railroad tracks below. The entire frontage on the street is about 700 feet, and is held at from $75 to $100 a foot. The ground, if secured, will be used for another sidetrack for the company.

A short time ago the West Penn secured title to all the property between its tracks and River avenue, extending from McFadden street, near the plant of the P. McGraw Wool Company, to the roundhouse, a distance of 263 feet, for about $150,000. Condemnation proceedings were also started against a part of the property of the Lutz & Schramm Company, where the new line will cross to Herrs island.

It was reported, too, that the McGraw property was wanted for track room, but no negotiations for this have been started. A force of 200 men is now working on Herrs island driving piles and making a "fill" to the west end of the island where the bridge will cross.

Another Lot Bought for Cathedral.

By a deed registered yesterday the Rt. Rev. Bishop Richard Phelan has secured title to the First Unitarian church property in the west side of Craig street, opposite Duquesne Garden, for $60,000. The plot measures 100x180 feet, and the church building thereon is an old frame structure. The purchase completes the site for the new Catholic cathedral, for which plans are now in the hands of Architects Egan & Prindeville of Chicago.

Through the agency of Davies & Co., Francis E. McGillick has sold to David Shaw the N. O. Werder property in the south side of Colombo street, Nineteenth ward, for $18,500. The plot is a large one, measuring 200x90 feet and adjoins the property of Mrs. E. C. Greene. It is understood the property will be improved soon.

A $10,000 apartment house is to be erected in Woods Run on a lot 62x110 feet, recently purchased by David Geib, the wholesale liquor dealer, for $8,000. The property was formerly owned by William Hartman and the sale was made through the office of John C. Langfitt. The lot is situated in the east side of Preble avenue, near Hanover avenue, and is improved with three frame houses which will be torn down as soon as the leases can be arranged to make room for the flat building.

Hundreds of Lots to Be Held.

Two more boom sales of lots are announced for Saturday, both in localities which should draw a large crowd of buyers. The Cavanagh plan of 252 lots, at Butler, which is being handled by the Public Trust Company, has been made ready for buyers and an excursion train will leave Allegheny at 10 a. m. Saturday to accommodate Pittsburgh homeseekers. The plan is only a block from Main street, and the lots are to be sold at from $500 up.

The other lot sale is on the Braddock Park plan, which is in the hands of John F. McCune and R. M. McAnulty of Braddock. Besides being on the Monongahela traction line, the plan is on the route of the proposed street car line from Wilkinsburgh to Braddock, which bids fair to become a reality in the near future. The lots are valued at from $100 to $200 each.

Mayes Bros. of McKees Rocks will erect a $12,000 store and apartment building in Island avenue, that borough, from plans now in the hands of Architect R. G. Vandervoort of Allegheny. The structure will be a four-story brick building, 45x48 feet, with a pressed brick front and terra cotta trimmings. It will contain besides the storerooms on the first floor, six flats.

A 36,000 Purchase Closed.

Porch Furniture

Porch furniture this year possesses more beauty than was ever before seen in furniture of this character.

This is because of the demand for something better.

There's a marked improvement in the style in all furnishings of the better class.

The soft green and the natural effect, in porch furniture, both of which are correct, add a pleasing quality to any interior at this season of the year (it must be borne in mind that porch furniture is equally appropriate for use indoors).

WHY?
In 1901 the people of the United States Paid for $37,000,000 More Life Insurance in the MUTUAL LIFE OF NEW YORK than in Any Other Company Doing a Purely Standard Business.
In Life Insurance—like everything else, people invest their money where it will bring best returns.
$360,000,000 Assets gives unquestioned security.
